ABOUT

Bar Harbor, Maine, a quaint seaside community, has a long history as a famed summer colony for the country's top echelons. An ever-popular tourist destination for its stunning and pristine nature, this former fishing village occupies the North East shore of Mount Desert, the most substantial island off the eastern Seaboard after New York's Long Island. With the area exhibiting considerable temperature variations between seasons, recreational activities are plentiful all year round, beckoning tourists from all over the country. An environmentally conscious region, the ecosystem is fully intact, revealing a wide range of wild species of birds, whales, with puffins and the elusive Maine Moose being unofficial mascots.

Served by the Hancock County-Bar Harbor airport with direct flights to Boston, Bar Harbor is no secret in New England. However, Bar Harbor is increasingly on the radar from a broader range of visitors for its natural wonders and quaint old-world charm. Within these slides, we are confident the distinguished reader will discover what the fuss is all about! With the small municipality claiming Acadia National Park, and Cadillac Mountain, Bar Harbor is an ideal jumping-off point in discovering the many treasures of Maine's majestic coastline.

RESTAURANTS

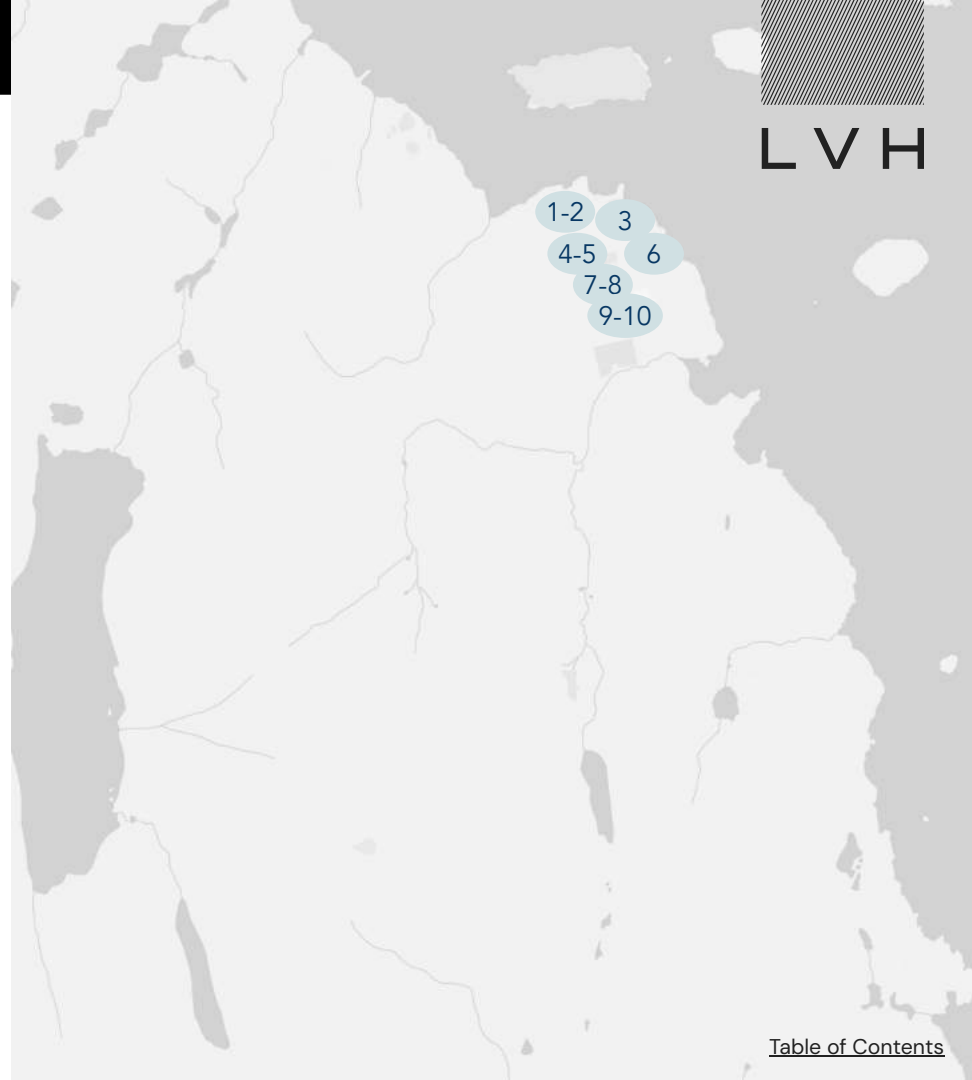

RESTAURANTS

The bustling restaurant scene in Bar Harbor features a wide range of dining experiences and something to satisfy almost every taste and budget, from steaks and seafood to a variety of local favorites, international dishes, heart-healthy fare, and vegan and vegetarian options too. Enjoy fine dining, casual eating, pubs, cafes, and breweries; whatever suits your culinary desires for dinner, lunch, and breakfast, Bar Harbor has it. Maine lobster is a perennial favorite of Bar Harbor visitors, and for a good reason. Whether you stop at a roadside lobster pound or enjoy it on a white table cloth, there's nothing quite like a Maine lobster, fresh from the ocean and rich and sweet. Beyond seafood, it also boasts a cultural explosion of delights. This includes Mexican, Italian, Cuban, and other world cuisines. You can't forget about the locally brewed beer, either. There are so many unique options, but you should at least try one of our selections.

SHOPPING

SHOPPING

Bar Harbor, Maine, is a picturesque coastal town with harbor views and all the lobster you can handle. There are so many charming shops downtown that you can find anything. It's an excellent place for dog owners; some shops are even dog friendly, and most leave water bowls outside their shops. Walk through the downtown villages surrounding Acadia National Park and experience a window shopper's paradise. Discover Maine's famous gemstone, the dazzling and elusive watermelon tourmaline. Bring home a coveted sweetgrass basket woven by one of Maine's finest Native American artisans or remember your trip with a sunny watercolor painting of the Porcupine Islands. Many shops are open all year, but no matter when you visit, you're sure to find something original in Bar Harbor and its neighboring towns.

SHOPPING

SHERMAN'S BOOKS & STATIONERY

The oldest bookstores in coastal Maine belong to the Sherman's, so it's no wonder this shop is special. Besides selling books, there is another side to the shop that is well-curated with gifts, housewares, and a few souvenirs.

Table of Contents

THE ACADIA SHOP

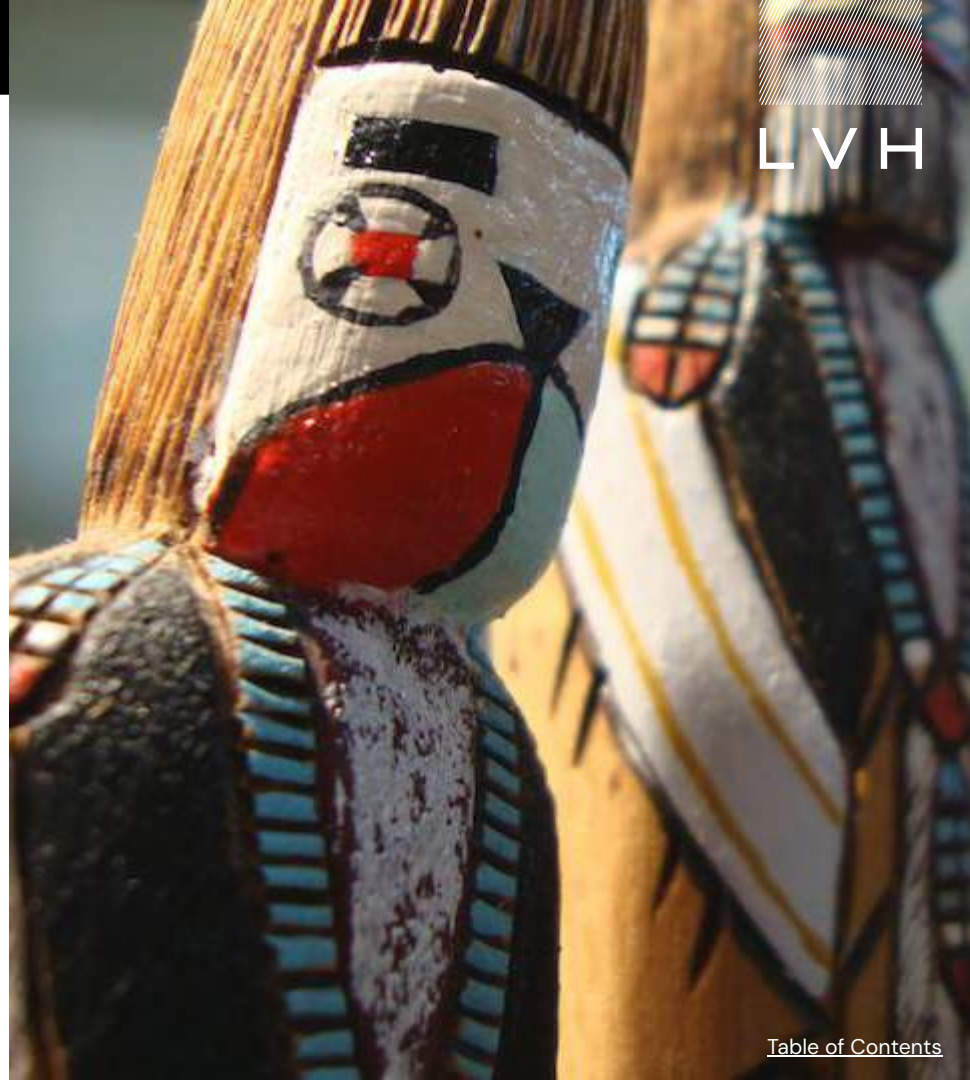

The Acadia Shop is in Bar Harbor and Southwest Harbor. Locally owned and operated, these artisanal shops are steeped in nearly a century of history. The first gift shop opened at the summit of Cadillac Mountain in 1933, and have been steadily growing since then, eventually moving operations into the town proper. Today, you will find these charming, authentic shops all through Bar Harbor.

NATIVE ARTS GALLERY

Native Arts Gallery is a unique family-owned and operated store that has brought southwestern Native American jewelry to Bar Harbor for 20 years. They offer sterling silver jewelry in Navajo, Zuni and Hopi designs and an assortment of handmade crafts. They are open from early May to mid-October.

IN THE WOODS

In the Woods is one of the oldest businesses in downtown Bar Harbor and displays a variety of products on two floors. It is quite a unique store in many aspects – the look, the atmosphere, and the products it carries. It sells beautifully hand-carved wooden items made from responsibly sourced wood. In fact, all products are made from dead wood removed from the sanctuaries to fertilize the land and help promote new growth.

NIGHTLIFE

When you think of the best restaurants in Maine, you think of Maine lobster. But in addition to Maine seafood, the state is home to a thriving craft brewery scene and exciting nightlife. Nightlife around Main Street gives plenty of opportunities for you to explore local pubs, dance clubs, and restaurants offering outdoor patios where you can sip on a craft beer or cocktail while enjoying salty ocean breezes and people-watching. Main Street late-night businesses span from West Street south to Park Street and include local favorites like Getty's and Bar Harbor Beer Works. At Carmen Verandah, you can dance the night away while enjoying live music and DJs. No matter what you're looking for, Bar Harbor is sure to please.

FOGTOWN BREWING COMPANY – BAR HARBOR

Featuring an ornate interior of exposed brickwork illuminated by subtle lighting, the Fogtown Brewing Company specializes in crafting and brewing an array of beers. Live music is the norm, and the venue is hailed for its drinks and warm atmosphere. The space is friendly, accentuating the crisp flavor of the concoctions served to its patrons. It is a pleasant spot where you can unwind over artfully-crafted beverages and ciders.

THE OASIS CLUB LOUNGE

The Oasis Club Lounge has served guests and dignitaries from around the world for more than a century. The lounge served as the social scene for summer residents, including the likes of the Vanderbilts, Pulitzers, and Morgans. Live piano entertainment, cozy tables and bar seating combine for a relaxing and inviting space to end a day of exploring. If you'd prefer, the lounge balcony offers a quiet retreat to enjoy the sun setting over Frenchman Bay while sipping a wild Maine blueberry martini and indulging in famous crab cakes.

LVH

BAR HARBOR BEER WORKS

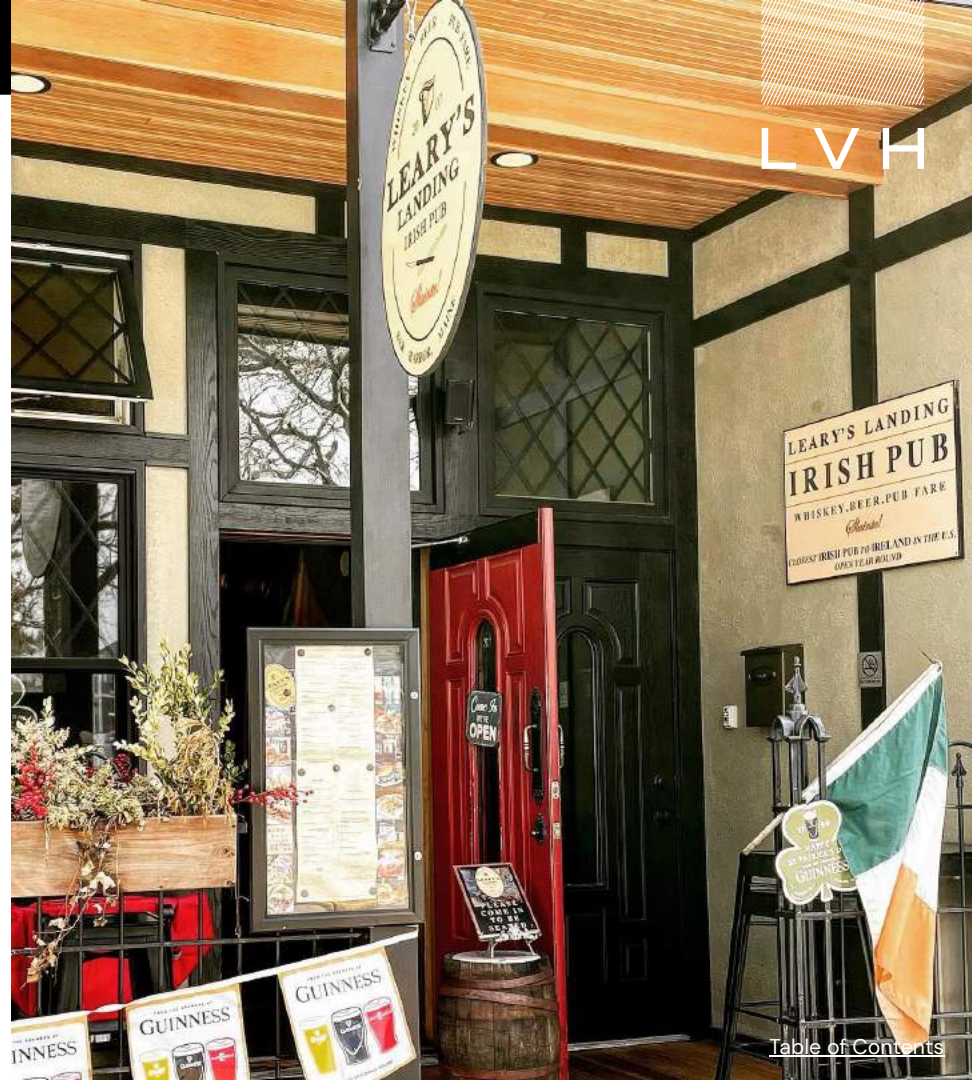

Bar Harbor Beer Works is casual, enjoyable, and family-friendly. It's a great place for a view and a brew. Located in a prime downtown location with plenty of outdoor seating, Bar Harbor Beer Works is a relaxing spot to sample a wide selection of Maine craft brews and to grab a bite.

LVH

LEARY'S LANDING IRISH PUB

In the heart of busy Bar Harbor, Leary's Landing is a cozy and welcoming Irish Pub you will fall in love with! Thirsty for a cold Irish ale, craft beer, whiskey or scotch, or a delicious craft cocktail? Looking for a good place to watch the game or a friendly bartender to share stories with? Look no further than Leary's, a one-of-a-kind pub known to be the most authentic Irish bar in the United States.

ATTRACTIONS

Table of Contents

ATTRACTIONS

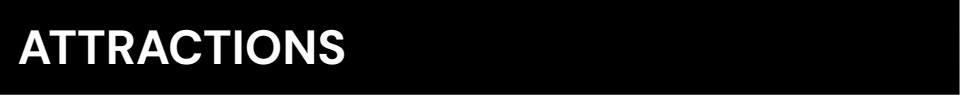

Bar Harbor city has long been known as a hub of New England culture, cuisine, and comfort and continues to uphold that reputation. The northern Maine city also offers access to Acadia National Park and is often considered one of the greatest park cities in the nation. Every summer, Bar Harbor transcends from a quiet seaside town to a bustling vacation hotspot. Nature lovers are truly spoiled for choice in Bar Harbor. Acadia National Park is just a mile away, and all kinds of boat tours are offered. One of the most popular things to do here is to walk across the water, over the land bridge to Bar Island. A rocky land bridge connects Bar Harbor at Bridge Street to the western edge of Bar Island. This natural connector appears at low tide and disappears about three hours later.

ATTRACTIONS

SCENIC FLIGHTS OVER BAR HARBOR AND ACADIA NATIONAL PARK

One of the best ways to experience Bar Harbor and Acadia National Park is from above. You will gain a unique perspective of Bar Harbor, coastal lighthouses, Acadia National Park, Cadillac Mountain, and more. This ultimate excursion will offer you stunning views of areas few visitors witness. Enjoy the natural beauty of the Maine coast while savoring some of Maine’s best lighthouses, shorelines, and islands. Twelve lighthouses, including Fort Knox and the Penobscot Narrows Bridge, are highlighted on your personalized tour. This is a must-see and unmissable experience for lighthouse enthusiasts and those wishing to view the Maine coast and islands. If you would like a non-standard tour, a customized or specialized aerial photography flight can be arranged.

MOUNT DESERT ISLAND

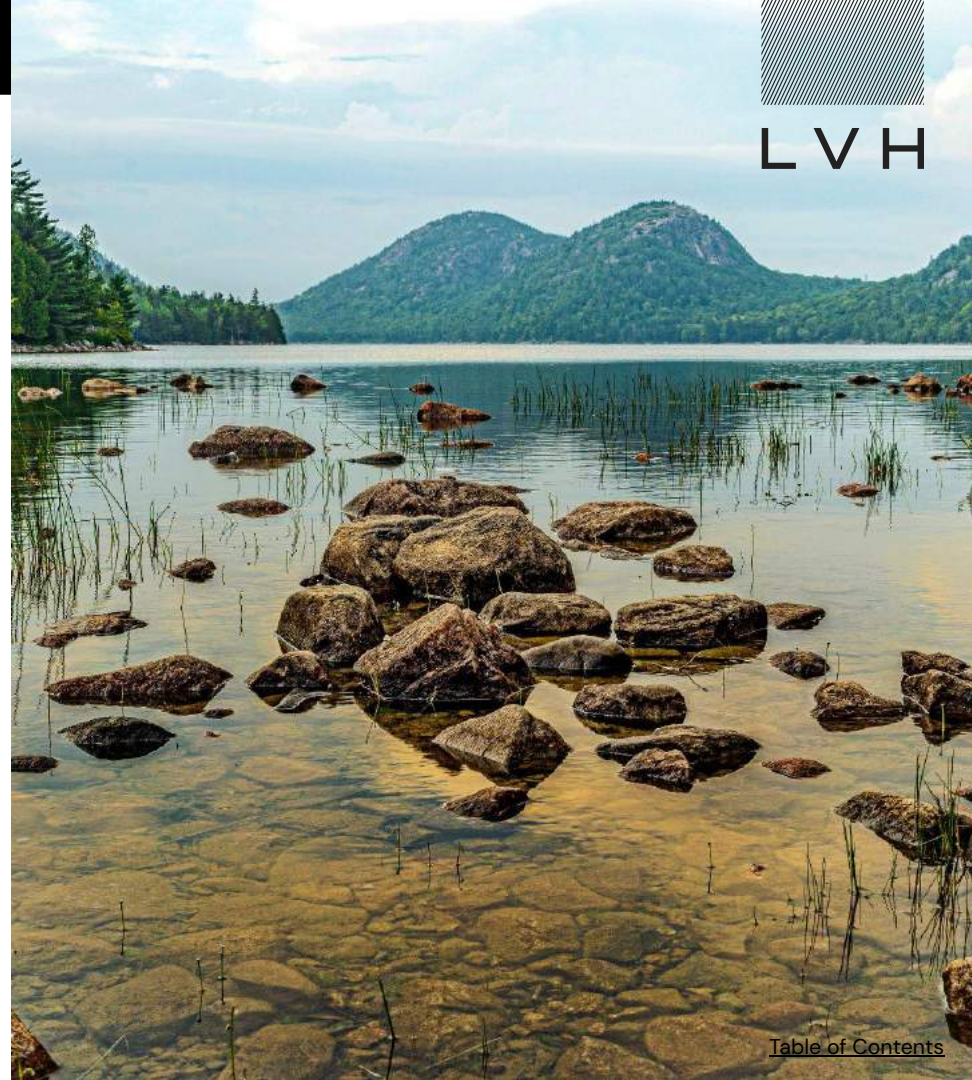

Mount Desert Island (MDI) is the largest island off the coast of Maine and the second largest (behind Long Island, New York) on the eastern seaboard. It offers vast geographical variety – from freshwater lakes to dense forests and from stark granite cliffs to voluptuous river valleys.

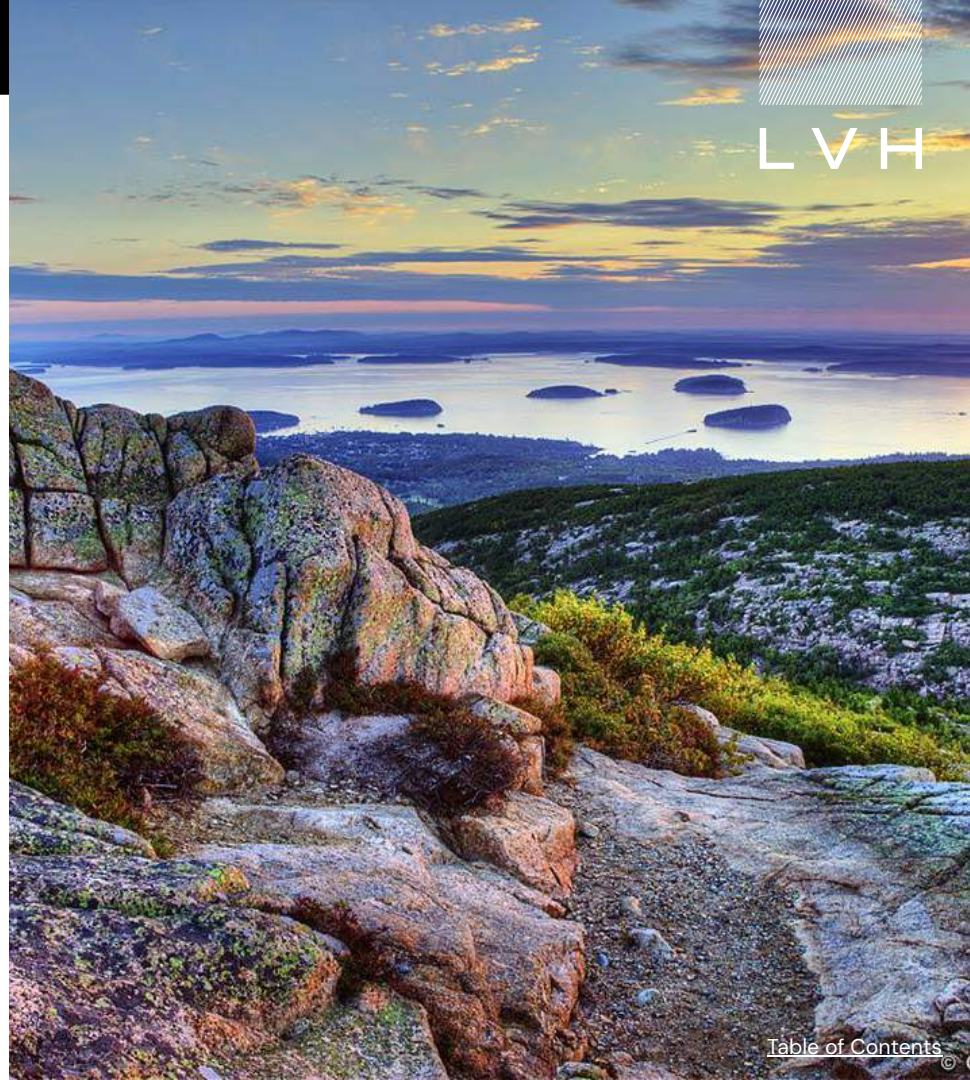

ACADIA NATIONAL PARK

Home to some of the most stunning landscapes and diverse wildlife on the Eastern Seaboard, Acadia National Park is open to explore year-round. Situated on the coast of Maine, the majority of the park's 47,000 acres sprawls on Mount Desert Island, though portions of the park are on the Schoodic Peninsula and Isle au Haut.

CADILLAC MOUNTAIN

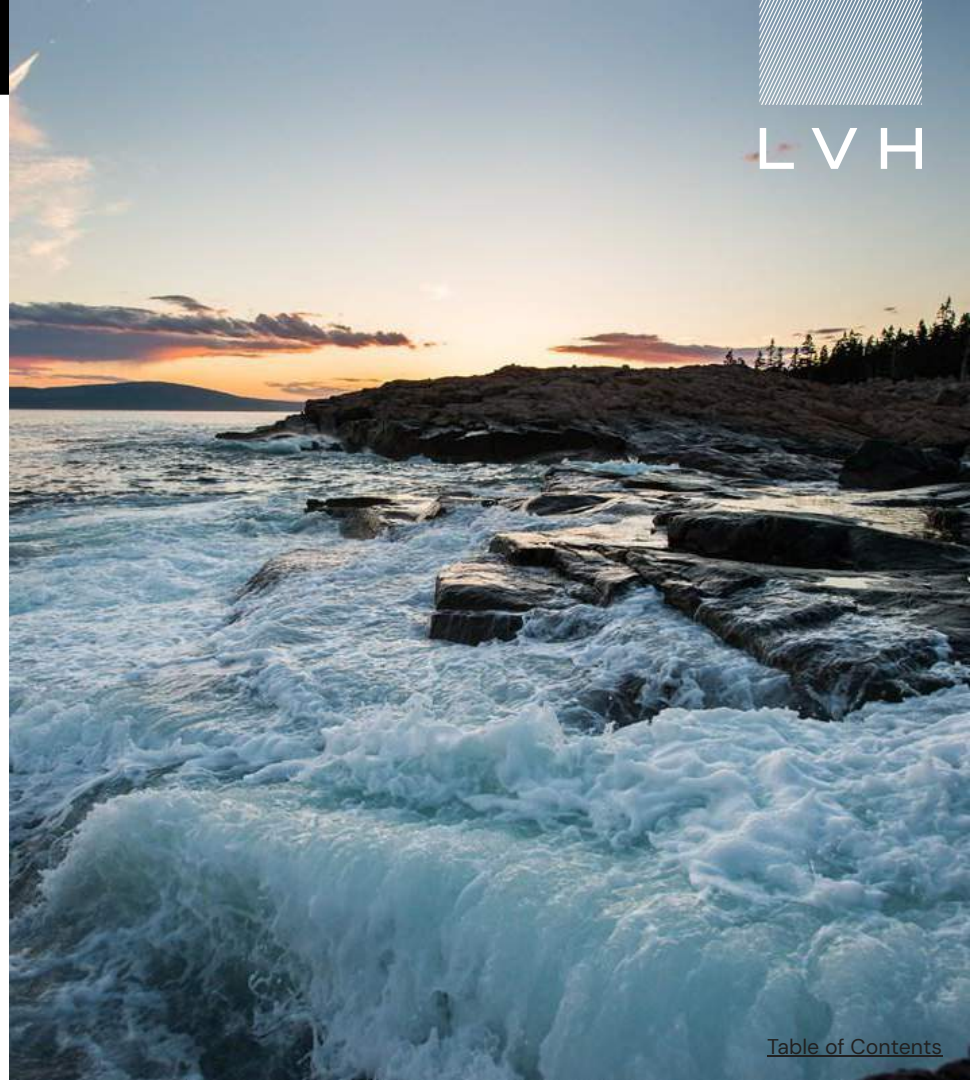

Cadillac Mountain is within the municipality of Bar Harbor known as a one-time fishing village abounding with authenticity and charm. The town's shopping district can easily be seen from the eastern side of the mountain and is particularly scenic when large cruise ships embark at the dock.

SCHOODIC POINT

Schoodic Point isn't as easily accessible as some of the park's other major attractions, but that's precisely why travelers find this area so special. Much like Mount Desert Island, Schoodic Point is composed of a craggy shoreline, granite headlands and spruce-fir forests. But unlike the island, its removed location lends a feeling of secluded intimacy.

The Downeast Acadia region is home to 10 public or semi-private golf courses. Each has a great view and offers challenging play on some of Maine's best courses for all skill levels. Try the 100-year-old Kebo Valley Golf Club & Course in Bar Harbor. For a low-key experience, try The Causeway Club in Southwest Harbor which sits on Norwood Cove.

1. Causeway Club
2. Northeast Harbor Golf Club
3. Kebo Valley Golf Club

CAUSEWAY CLUB

This course offers nine holes of link style golf. With multiple tee options, the front nine plays to 32 par, measuring 2,266 yards. The back nine of 2,410 yards plays to 33 par. Designed by Alonzo Yates, all nine holes were completed in 1923 on what can modestly be described as a fabulous piece of property.

NORTHEAST HARBOR GOLF CLUB

Located on Sargent Drive in Northeast Harbor, the Northeast Harbor Golf Club offers exceptional golf and professional instruction for all skill levels. Designed by Arthur Lockwood & Herbert Strong, this 18-hole course offers a mix of link styles and parkland holes.

KEBO VALLEY GOLF

Established in 1888, Kebo Valley Golf Club is the oldest golf club in Maine, and the eighth oldest golf club in the United States. Kebo has tested the skills of many of the country's finest players including influential politicians, industry leaders. The course includes 18 spectacular and well-maintained holes. Greens are especially designed to challenge and excite players of all levels

TREKKING AND HIKING

Hiking Trails in Acadia National Park are often interconnected and range in difficulty from easy to strenuous. There are more than 120 miles of trails from which to choose. Add to this the famous Carriage Roads, and the day hiker has a wide selection of enjoyable options.

OYSTER TASTING AT GLIDDEN POINT OYSTER FARM

Glidden Point Oyster Farm has been growing Maine oysters the old-fashioned way in the Damariscotta River for more than 30 years. Their cold water oysters are slow-grown, harvested by hand after four years of age and praised by chefs and oyster buffs for their clean, crisp taste, great brine, and easy-to-open shells. Glidden Point has a tasting room and retail store and offers guided tours. On your next Bar Harbor visit, stop by the oyster farm.

MOOSE TOURS

The moose is known to be an elusive creature. Seeing a Maine moose in its natural environment and being able to photograph it, is truly special. You will be able to find them easier with the help of Northeast Whitewater registered Maine guides. Go moose watching on land tours by van or by canoe.

ALL TERRAIN VEHICLE (ATV) GUIDED TOUR

This region has some of the best terrain in North America – with pristine wilderness and riding trails suitable for every level rider! If you're new to ATV riding, you can take "guided express" evening tours, take a morning ride, an afternoon ride, or a full-day trip!

SNOWMOBILING

Maine receives abundant snowfall making snowmobiling hugely popular, as evidenced by more than 280 snowmobile clubs. Maine's snowmobile trail system – which includes 4,000 miles of primary trail known as the Interconnected Trail System (ITS) – offers the opportunity to ride uninterrupted from region to region.

Children can touch them, observe, handle, and sometimes even kiss these strange and mysterious beings before they are returned safely to the sea.

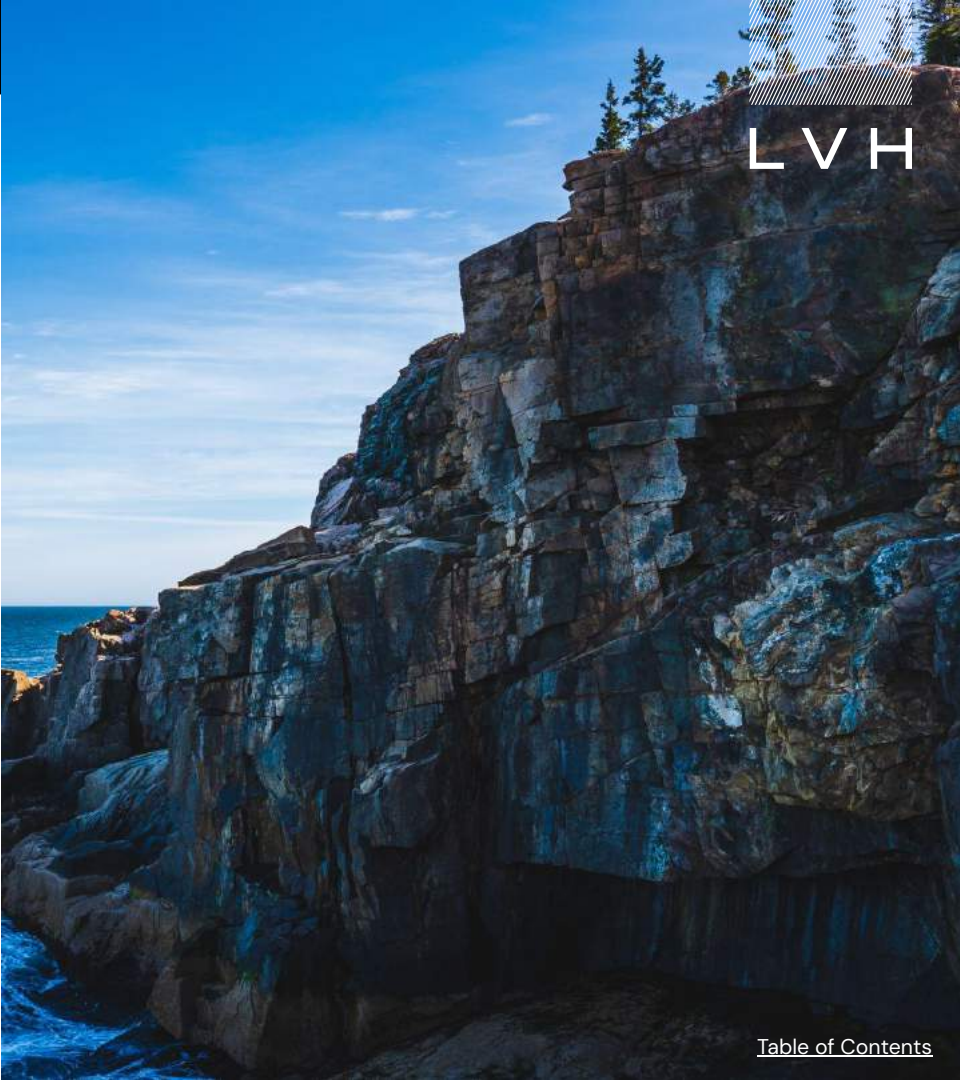

A VISIT TO THE GEORGE B. DORR MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

As one of the best family-friendly things to do in Bar Harbor, kids and adults alike can learn about Maine's coastal wildlife using all five senses at the George B. Dorr Museum of Natural History. The museum has specially designed programs and tours where kids are encouraged to explore through touch, smell, and sound. Thanks to the on-site touch tanks, kids learn firsthand about local ocean critters found in Frenchman Bay. Guided by an experienced Acadia National Park ranger, kids will learn some science trivia and explore the textures of baleen, fur, wings, and skulls through a hands-on experience.

ROCK CLIMBING ALONG THE OTTER CLIFFS

If you're looking for adventurous things to do with older children in Bar Harbor, consider a guided rock climbing tour along the Otter Cliffs. This stunning location in Acadia National Park reaches up to 110 feet, making it one of the highest coastal headlands in North America along the Atlantic Ocean. There you can top rope or rappel with sturdy steel anchors. There are various climbing tours for any age and experience levels – a special Family Rock Climbing package. On the other hand, Explore-Share is a full-day rock climbing tour with The American Mountain Guides Association, AMGA-certified guide.
