ABOUT

The Hamptons are truly meant to be a getaway destination where you can spend time trying great restaurants, drinking frozen cocktails at outdoor bars, visiting wineries and lounging on beautiful sandy shores. It may be just 90 minutes from New York City, but when you visit the Hamptons, you enter an entirely different and refreshing part of New York State. The destination has gorgeous beaches, dramatic dunes, shingled windmills, and famous lighthouses that attracted artists like Jackson Pollock and Winslow Homer to paint in its hamlets.

The Hamptons are a group of towns on Long Island – perhaps the most famous area on Long Island – that have gained fame as the place of residence or summer home of some of America's most elite. Thousands escape the hot city each summer to Southampton and East Hampton and their many hamlets and villages, including Sag Harbor, Water Mill, and Bridgehampton. They have many of museums, quirky antique shops, and placid bays perfect for beach-combing.

SOUTHAMPTON

Southampton is the first place you'll see when entering the Hamptons. It's the region's quieter and posher town. Take a walk along Jobs Lane and Main Street, where most shops are located, and you'll come across the usual suspects: Vineyard Vines, a stunning Club Monaco flagship, J.Crew, Ralph Lauren, and Pottery Barn.

BRIDGEHAMPTON

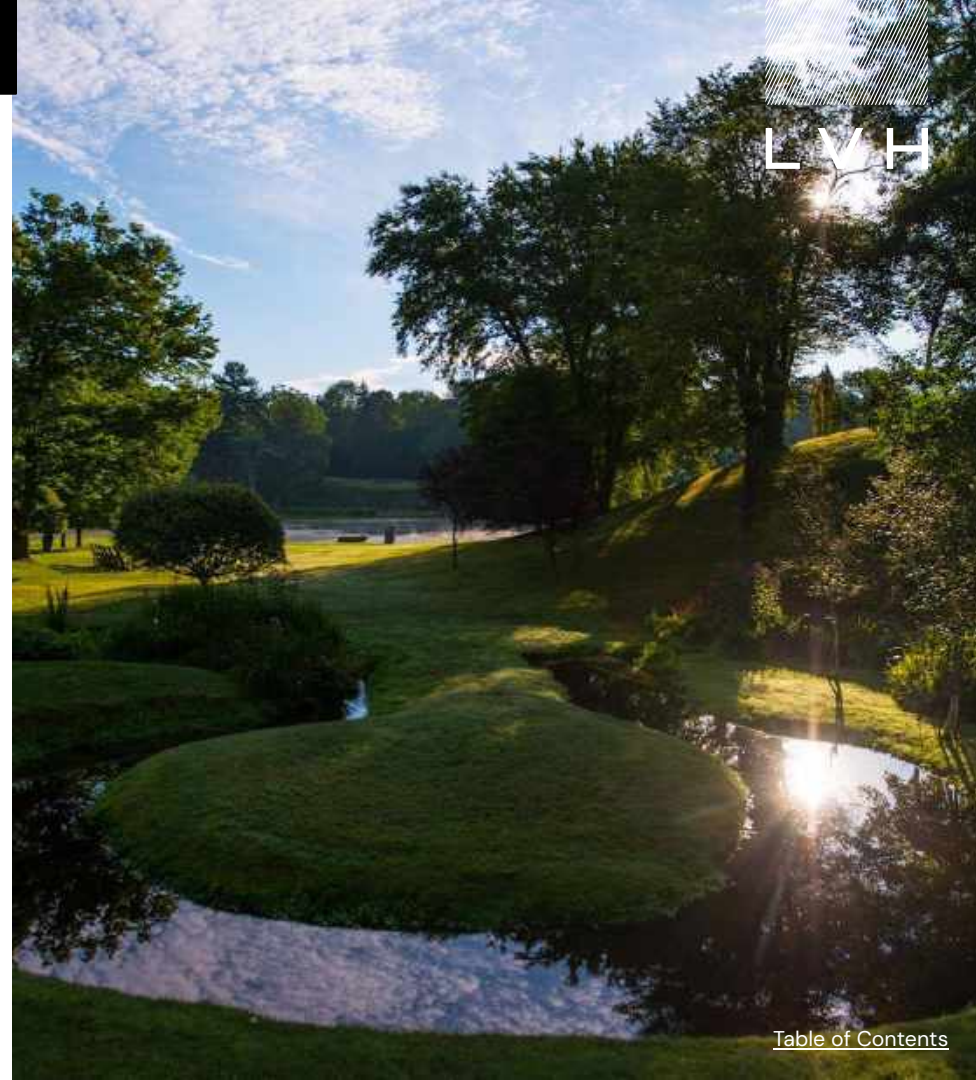

Located after Southampton, this neighborhood is well-known for its riding events. Classic farmhouses and stables are mixed with the northern landscape of the Hamptons and its elegant houses. Locals here appreciate a calm way of life around the beach, with good wine, tasty food, and charming farms.

NEIGHBORHOODS

SAGAPONACK

Sagaponack is the land of luxury in the Hamptons. Originally just a small slice of oceanfront land between Southampton and East Hampton, Sagaponack is home to the elite who live in stately manors and iconic contemporary homes along the ocean. In fact, Sagaponack is regularly ranked as one of the most expensive zip codes in the United States.

SAG HARBOR

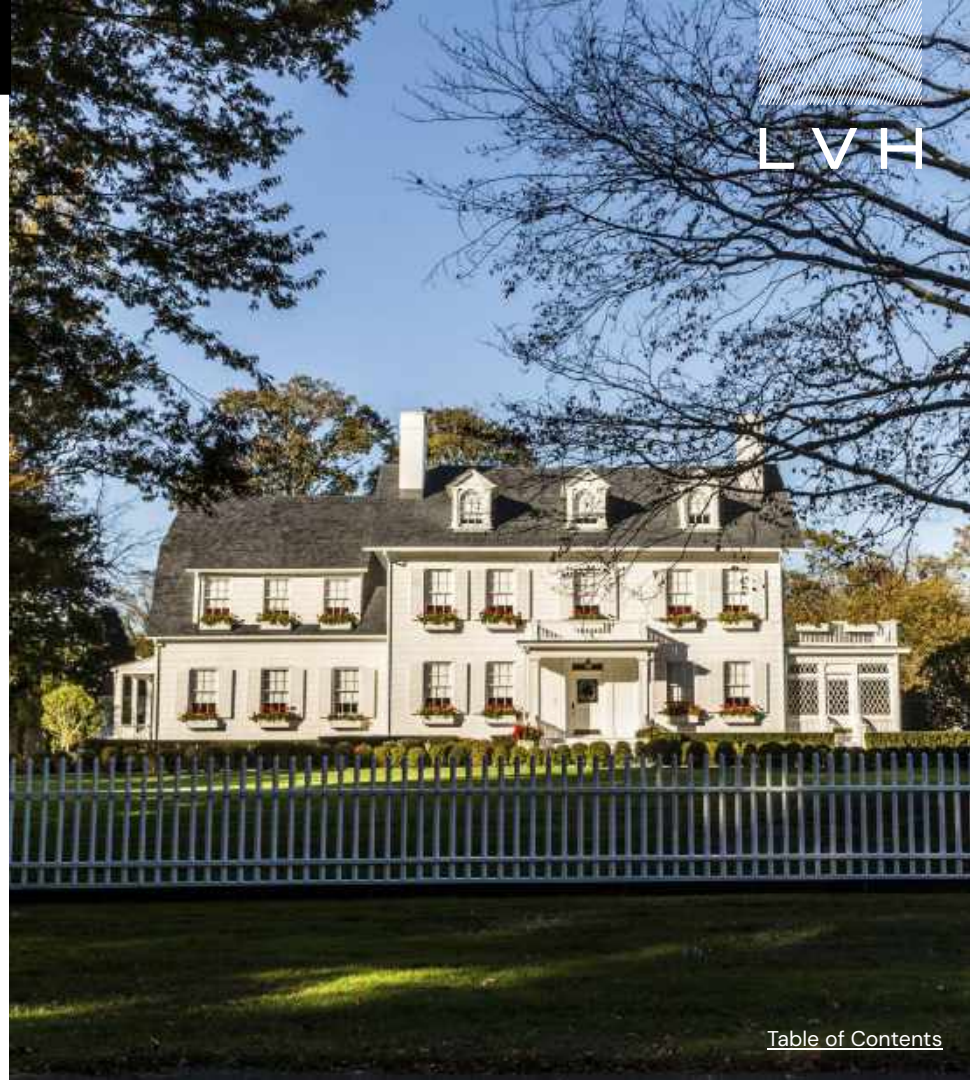

In many ways, Sag Harbor is the Hamptons' quieter more eccentric cousin to the north. Main Street is picturesque and lined with tall trees and carefully curated shops. You won't find any big flagships here. Shops are mostly locally owned and located along Main Street and Ferry Road.

NEIGHBORHOODS

EAST HAMPTON

With its weeping willow-lined ponds filled with graceful swans, to its historic windmills and manicured streets, East Hampton is everything a tourist would envision. Main Street is the place where everything is happening – from good shopping, great food tasting and visitors who head toward the ocean and along Further Lane where you will spot a number of elegant mansions.

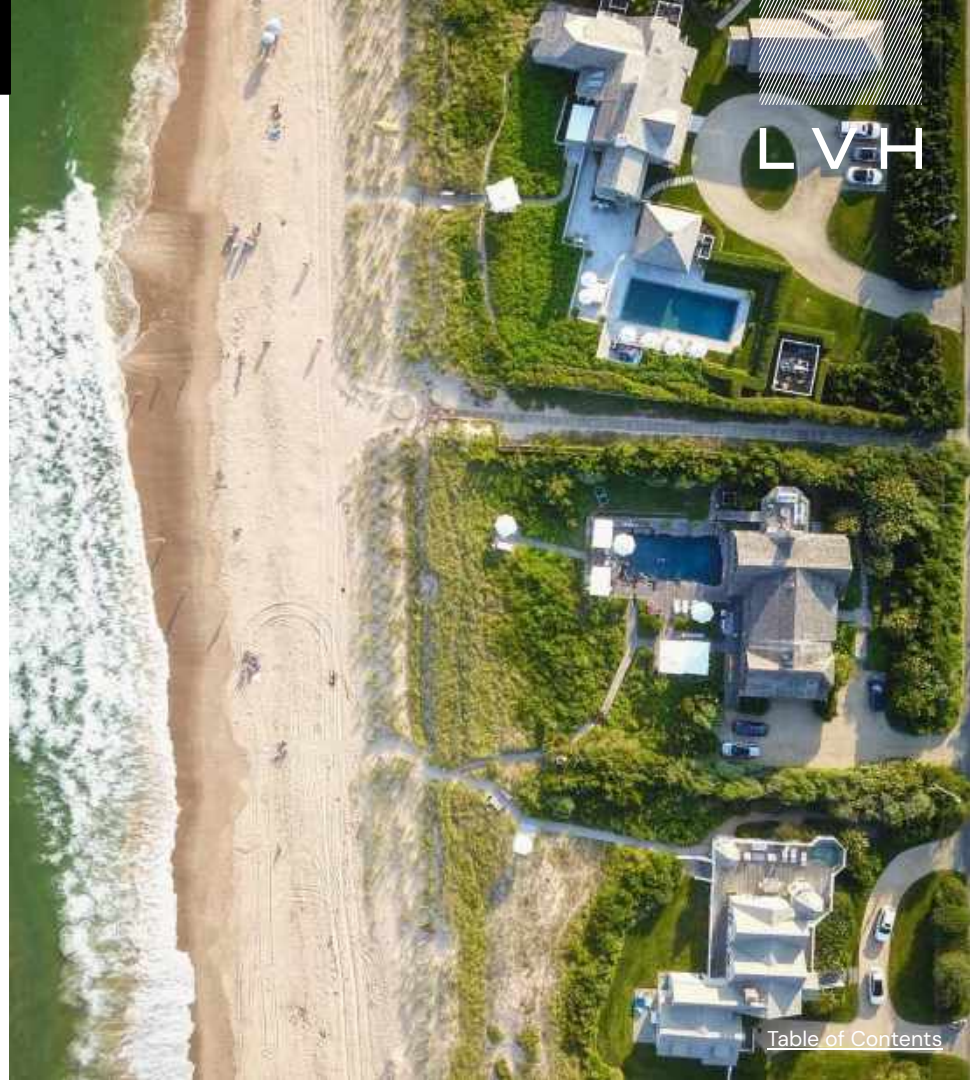

LVH

NEIGHBORHOODS

AMAGANSETT

The home of tranquil beaches, stretches of dunes, and solitude, Amagansett is a mix of elegant estates and traditional rustic homes. The ambiance is a bit different from other parts of the Hamptons since this neighborhood is calmer and filled with local energy.

MONTAUK

In Montauk you'll find some of the most scenic spots in the country. On summer days traffic is usually slower, but it can be a good thing when surrounded by such breathtaking beauty. For a small place, it's teeming with interesting shops like Beaches and Beans Coffee Co. and Goldberg's Bagels and Deli.

The coastline traverses stunning bays, emerald fields, and forested hills peaking beyond the sandbanks. Regarded as the billionaire's playground, these beaches are among the most coveted in the country.
