ABOUT

LVH

This affluent colony at the foot of the Santa Monica Mountains is known for its celebrity residents. Malibu's iconic shores – famous filming sites for some of Hollywood's most beloved movies – revel in the laid-back ambiance immortalized by the glamor of California's 60s surf culture. Malibu is still a mecca for wave riders from Surfrider Beach off Malibu Pier and nearby Zuma. The beach city's shorelines reveal a true relaxed spirit.

Beyond just a beach destination, Malibu is home to the Getty Villa, the original home of the Getty Museum. From a thriving cultural life flaunting multiple art galleries to al fresco dining in the company of stunning sunsets, it's clear why Malibu is a go-to for the jet set. A mere 33 miles from the hustle and bustle of Los Angeles, Malibu offers all the comforts of the city with none of the stress. Whether you're winning, dining, or seeking adrenaline-pumping recreation, Malibu presents all the avenues and space to enjoy the best of life.

Malibu's 20-mile shoreline is dotted with some stunning fine dining establishments. Buoyed by an affluent clientele of billionaire residents and celebrity clientele, Malibu's restaurants do not skimp on extravagance. The region's fine dining spots take full advantage of the area's natural assets, offering unparalleled al fresco experiences. From cult spots such as Moonshadows to the seaside Mediterranean feel of Geoffrey's, the fare on offer is just as exquisite as the views. Off the Malibu coast, you're invited on a gastronomic journey – from tapas to Japanese, Italian and Latin-infused dishes. This cuisine boasts enviable access to the bounties of the Pacific, featuring some of the country's freshest seafood.

RESTAURANTS

THE SUNSET | CONTEMPORARY AMERICAN

Welcome to The Sunset restaurant on a beautiful stretch of Zuma Beach. As you drive up to the secluded location, the first thing you'll notice are the breathtaking ocean views and magnificent Pacific horizon. Situated a few steps from the waves, you may be lucky to spot whales if you're visiting from December to May. The Sunset offers a setting and cuisine as good as it gets in Southern California.

RESTAURANTS

GRAVINA MALIBU | ITALIAN

Gravina is a family-owned and managed Italian eatery serving authentic multi-regional Italian cuisine in a cozy home-like atmosphere. The restaurant offers delicious meals, like spaghetti ai frutti di mare (shellfish and seafood in a spicy tomato sauce) and beautifully prepared, delicious drinks.

RESTAURANTS

GEOFFREY'S | SEAFOOD

Perched on a romantic Malibu hillside, Geoffrey's offers a spectacular view of the curving Southern California coastline, and its flower-filled patio is a fine spot for a candlelight dinner or Sunday brunch. Panoramic views of the ocean grace every table in the house, canceling the boundaries between the restaurant and the splendor surrounding it. Escape the stresses of life and unwind at Geoffrey's Malibu for an unforgettable oceanside dining experience.

RESTAURANTS

SADDLE PEAK LODGE | NEW AMERICAN

The eatery is a historic Malibu Canyon hunting lodge turned restaurant. It is perched up on the Saddle Peak (the drive up is quite pretty at sunset) and it serves the big-game meat-centric menu. Despite the scattered mounted deer busts and similar hunting regalia, dining at this institution is a deeply LA experience and not nearly as kitschy as it may sound. Dining alfresco is particularly ideal for romantic evenings. The place is not just for the carnivores. Fish options, salads, and veggie sides are on the menu too.

RESTAURANTS

MALIBU FARM | NEW AMERICAN

A white-washed dining room and oceanside patio bar are home to Malibu Farm Restaurant & Bar. Go for brunch at this organic, kosher, and farm-fresh eatery on the Malibu Pier, where everything is healthy and delectable. Featuring fresh juice cocktails and the fresh, organic, and local cuisine of Helene Henderson, try a watermelon mimosa with your vegetable paella and spaghetti squash lasagna. At the same time, soak up the sounds and smells of the ocean. Both, the outdoor patio and elegant dining room offer beautiful views of the pier and ocean.

V'S RESTAURANT AND BAR | NEW AMERICAN

This intimate space has knowledgeable bartenders who can recreate classic drinks on the spot or introduce you to a new favorite. There are no pre-mixes here, everything is made before your eyes, completely from scratch. The upscale decor and casual atmosphere creates a comforting space that's refined, yet friendly and solo travelers will find it surprisingly easy to strike up a conversation with laid-back locals.

RESTAURANTS

LITTLE BEACH HOUSE | SEAFOOD

On the exclusive mile-long stretch of sand known as Carbon Beach or Billionaire's Beach, adjacent to Nobu Malibu, sits the latest outpost of the Soho House. This unbelievably trendy global members-only club is so exclusive not even already-established members are guaranteed entry — they must be approved by a local board first. Nevertheless, should you gain access to the privileged club with a beachy vibe and contemporary art flair, ocean views, and a seafood-charged menu, you will be living an endless summer.

RESTAURANTS

NOBU | JAPANESE

Nobu is probably the most famous restaurant in Malibu. It has locations all over the globe. It's an extremely trendy place to dine, and the Asian-inspired cuisine is top notch. Chef Matsuhisa's sushi is among the best in the area. Try the lobster tempura truffle amazu or the roasted king crab with uni or shiso serrano. Nobu is a favorite among celebrities.

RESTAURANTS

DUKE'S MALIBU | SEAFOOD

Surfing legend Duke Kahanamoku taught surfing in Malibu and spent time in the area as a lifeguard. He competed in water sports and appeared in more than 28 Hollywood movies. Duke's Malibu features good food, an amazing atmosphere, a beautiful vista and, of course, delicious food and luscious cocktails.

MOONSHADOWS | CALIFORNIAN

Dining at Moonshadows feels like you're dining on a luxury yacht surrounded by massive windows for an exemplary panoramic ocean view. The mouthwatering dishes have Asian fusion, Italian and American influences. Appetizers include choices such as duck and shiitake mushroom spring rolls, and octopus carpaccio while main courses feature dishes like miso glazed black cod and almond-crusted albacore tuna steak.

MASTRO'S OCEAN CLUB | STEAKHOUSE

Mastro's collection of sophisticated, classic steakhouses and ocean club seafood locations are recognized for their combination of world-class service, highly acclaimed cuisine, and live entertainment in an elegant yet energetic atmosphere. This eatery provides an unparalleled dining experience.

CAFE HABANA

Rande Gerber's excellent Cuban/Mexican cafe, located at the Malibu Lumber Yard, is a hot spot not to be ignored on your "to dine" list. It is an A-list celebrity gathering place, especially during Wednesday night karaoke. If karaoke isn't your thing, just take a breather sipping Casamigos, the tequila which garnered fame thanks to Gerber and George Clooney who've recently sold their endeavor for $1 billion.

MOONSHADOWS BLUE LOUNGE

The Blue Lounge at Moonshadows is the quintessential spot after an incredible day at the beach. At night the Blue Lounge goes from a chic restaurant to a feisty beach party venue, offering wonderful cocktails and an electric atmosphere.

ROSENTHAL WINE BAR

This casual tasting room at Rosenthal Wine Bar offers indoor and outdoor seating in a carefree atmosphere complete with the sound of the ocean surf. With food trucks and live music on the weekends, this sophisticated venue is an ideal stop for an afternoon with friends or a warm summer evening with someone special.

ALICIA ADAMS ALPACA

Alicia Adams Alpaca is a family-owned business hailing from New York. Owner and designer Alicia Adams raises Suri alpacas on a farm in Hudson Valley, and uses their eco-friendly, hypoallergenic fur to create classic designs with an urban edge. Best-selling items include the Classic Throw, available in over 90 hues, and the Alassio Wrap, a lightweight wrap made from a baby alpaca and silk blend. Jetsetters can fly in eco-friendly luxury with the Globetrotter Travel Set, which features an alpaca travel blanket, eye mask and lounge socks, in a storage bag.

MALIBU COUNTRY MART

The Malibu Country Mart is a large outdoor lifestyle center or "boutique mall" in the heart of Malibu at the Civic Center. This venue, nestled against the majestic mountains and just a stone's throw from the beach. The Malibu Country Mart is California's premier seaside destination for shopping, dining, and relaxing and features upscale boutiques, restaurants, and personal services set in a calming, laid-back setting.

MALIBU VILLAGE

Malibu Village offers outstanding lifestyle amenities in a stunning creek-side setting. It features a mix of local boutiques, high-end retail and restaurants. You can especially find items attuned to the surfing lifestyle here.

THE MALIBU COLONY CO.

The Malibu Colony Co. is a one-stop-shop for souvenirs and gifts. This gift shop has been serving the Malibu community and tourists for over 25 years. The Malibu Colony Co. offers a selection of home décor, linens and fragrances, as well as apparel for kids and babies. Some of its most popular items include Diptyque and Lafco candles, as well as socks, robes and throws from CozyChic. They also have dining and entertainment options from brands like Michael Aram and Simon Pearce.

RODEO DRIVE

What the Hollywood Boulevard of Fame is for the movie industry, Rodeo Drive is for the Fashion Industry. A two-mile-long street in Beverly Hills is recognized as one of the best shopping places in the world. With flagship stores, it's simply heaven for everyone with impeccable fashion taste. Although it is nestled in Beverly Hills, L.A., the fashion mecca is about an hour drive from the villa Kaizen; and the road trip is never a dull drive whichever route you choose – along the Pacific Coast or over the Santa Monica Mountains. Below is a list of some of the flagship stores on Rodeo Drive:

THE ARTS

Malibu is home to an array of exquisite galleries and museums featuring artifacts and art pieces from antiquity to the present day. Many of these cherished institutions started as patronage projects of wealthy art collectors and philanthropists. More than just local haunts, Malibu's museums are mentioned in Los Angeles itineraries. One look at the splendor of the Getty Villa and it's clear why!

FREDERICK R. WEISMAN MUSEUM

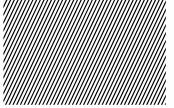

The Frederick R. Weisman Museum of Art at Pepperdine University was founded in 1992 with a $1.5 million gift from Frederick R. Weisman, a noted art collector and philanthropist. The museum showcases historical and contemporary art by nationally recognized artists, with a focus on the art of California. Past exhibitions have included Andy Warhol: Life and Legends; Rodin: Muses, Sirens, Lovers and Wayne Thiebaud: Works on Paper.

MALIBU CONTEMPORARY ART GALLERY

Malibu Contemporary Art Gallery features works exclusively by 14 established Southern California-based artists. These creatives exhibit internationally and are in museum collections. The gallery gives a percentage of its art sales to a local non-profits serving Malibu as a city and a community. Art lovers who are primed to purchase a piece by a California artist should definitely check out this gallery.

ADAMSON HOUSE

This immaculately preserved 1930's Moorish-Spanish-style villa serves an important purpose in the community: to educate visitors about the history of Malibu, going all the way back to the 18th century when the land was home to the Chumash Indians. You can see the entire house, with its elaborate tile work and stunning views of the Pacific Ocean. On site is the Malibu Lagoon Museum, offering an even deeper dive into Malibu's past.

GETTY VILLA

Billionaire, oilman and art patron J. Paul Getty opened the Getty Villa in 1974 and made his vast collection of Classical and Renaissance-era artworks available for public viewing. Getty felt art in his collection deserved to be displayed in a building evoking Classical traditions and not in a neutral or Modern-style museum setting. So, he commissioned a group of architects who created a re-imagining of Herculaneum's Villa of the Papyri, a Roman villa buried in the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in AD 79. The museum now houses only Greek, Roman, and Etruscan art, with the rest of Getty's collection now housed at the massive Getty Center in Brentwood.

THE GETTY CENTER

The Getty Center sits on a hilltop in the Santa Monica Mountains in Brentwood. From there, you can take in the unprecedented views and distinctive features of Los Angeles's landscape—the Pacific Ocean, the San Gabriel Mountains, and the vast street-grid of the city. Inspired by the relationship between these elements, architect Richard Meier designed the complex to highlight both nature and culture. Natural light is one of the Getty Center's most important architectural elements. Art from the Middle Ages to present day are set amid modern architecture and gardens.

HORSEBACK RIDING

Consider a horseback journey in one of the most secluded and scenic areas in Malibu. Trails traverse rolling hills, wooded canyons, and striking rock formations. Saddle up for a different way of seeing some beautiful viewpoints. Being one with nature and with your horse is a very centering, meditative, healing experience.

MOUNTAIN BIKING

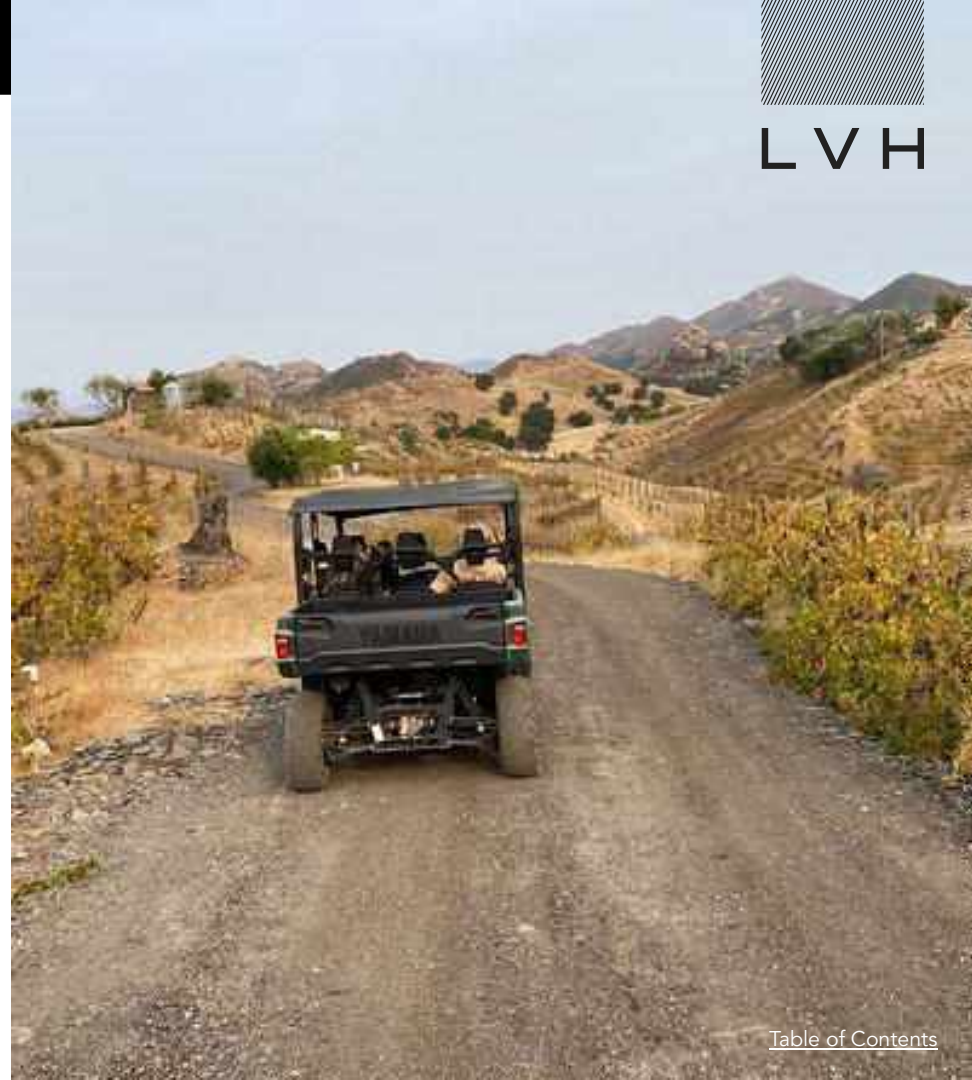

Take a mountain bike ride on some of Malibu's trails for an adventurous excursion. Whether you're a beginner or advanced rider, your guide will adjust the route and pace to your abilities. See the flora and fauna of Southern California up close and learn about this magnificent environment.

4X4 VINEYARD TOUR

The 4x4 Vineyard Tour is a guided adventure around Saddlerock Ranch Vineyards. In addition to exploring the vineyards, you'll get the opportunity to probe other natural areas of the property. You'll also visit the Chumash Native American archaeological site, organic vegetable garden, mountain top overlooks and more!

ASTROPHOTOGRAPHY WORKSHOP

The workshop will teach you the fundamentals of night photography and give on location experience (study the landscape and plan compositions) and training to create stunning images on your own. It includes a masterclass in editing to bring the images to life. One thing to note, you should bring your own equipment.

MALIBU MOTORCYCLE RIDE

There are iconic roads, less-known roads, and locals' favorites. These rides are a combination of several enjoyable canyon roads. Some will take you on a wild, twisting journey; or atop of the canyon featuring one of the best lookout spots in Malibu. Malibu and Pacific Coast Highway are hotspots for locals and a favorite among visitors from other countries. Let us get you up to speed on a few epic routes in Malibu:

- Tuna Canyon Road

A person is working out using battle ropes in an urban setting, possibly a rooftop or a covered walkway. The person is wearing a dark tank top and light-colored shorts, and is captured in a dynamic pose, pulling the ropes. The background shows a cityscape with buildings and a clear sky. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting it's daytime. The overall mood is energetic and focused on fitness.
