WELLNESS

Maui, also known as “the Valley Isle,” is the second-largest Island in the Hawaiian Archipelago. It is renowned for top-tier beaches, whale watching, the sacred Iao Valley, and dramatic sunsets from the Haleakala volcano. A thriving farm-to-table cuisine ethic bolsters a place of astounding savage beauty and cultural significance.

Maui’s natural charms have earned it a coveted reputation as a “Playground of the Wealthy,” offering exclusive travelers a robust five-star infrastructure. With no shortage of beaches and spared of Oahu’s crowds, Maui sets the benchmark for a luxury island getaway. The island’s central volcanoes block precipitation to the western side, accounting for incredible topographic and natural diversity. Eternally grounded in luscious nature and an authentic aloha spirit, Maui distills the best of Hawaii into a single island. From incredible coral reefs, the majestic West Maui mountain range to the lush rainforests and waterfalls of the east – this is nirvana!

Each corner of Maui's 728 square miles presents a unique district with a corresponding micro-climate and personality. An island of glaring contrasts, luxurious beach resorts, and rural cowboy ranches coexist on this varied terrain. The dry, sunny climates of south Maui are home to the exquisite resort settlements of Wailea and Makena. Western Maui is positively charming with its various inns, art galleries, and shops lining the seaboard. From Lahaina, the historic whaling port, to Hana in the east, Maui presents the full extent of natural glory.

KAPALUA

Kapalua is one of Maui's premier resort areas. Its name means "arms embracing the sea." Kapalua's lovely shoreline is lined with five bays and three white sand beaches, one of which was named "The Best Beach in America." Host of the renowned Kapalua Wine and Food Festival, this spectacular area, nestled among Cook pines and surrounded by acres of pineapple, is the perfect getaway to indulge in the luxurious side of Maui.

KAANAPALI

This beach area was a former retreat area for Maui's royalty. Now a popular getaway, Kaanapali beach offers great swimming and cliff diving. In fact, there is a famous daily cliff diving ceremony off the beach's northernmost cliffs, Puu Kekaa or Black Rock. Held every evening at sunset, a cliff diver lights the torches along the cliff, diving off Black Rock in a re-enactment of a feat by Maui's revered King Kahekili. Also fronting Kaanapali is the open air Whalers Village, a world-class shopping complex featuring a variety of exceptional shops and restaurants, a renowned whaling museum and Hawaiian entertainment.

KAHULUI

Kahului is the hub of activity located in the valley between the West Maui Mountains, and the slopes of Haleakala on the south side of the island. It is the most urban town on Maui. Kahului is a convenient spot for unforgettable road trips east along the Hana Highway or looping around west Maui, encountering amazing volcanic scenery, waterfalls, rugged coastlines and world-class beaches.

LAHAINA

Lahaina is a historic town that has been transformed into a Maui hotspot with dozens of art galleries and a variety of unique shops and restaurants. Lahaina was a historic whaling village during the whaling boom of the mid-1800s. Visitors can still get a feel for old Lahaina as they stroll down lively Front Street, ranked one of the “Top 10 Greatest Streets” by the American Planning Association. Lahaina’s sunny climate and oceanfront setting also provides the perfect backdrop for a variety of activities and entertainment.

AREAS

WAILEA

Wailea is a luxurious resort community in south Maui spanning 1,500 acres of land with jaw-dropping ocean views. The area exudes a sense of privacy, serenity and freedom. The area's signature beaches include Wailea and Polo beaches, with top-notch swimming and snorkeling, and Ulua beach, where early morning sunset walkers and joggers abound.

RESTAURANTS

Maui's varied natural beauty foreshadows an equally colorful cuisine. Particular pride is taken in the island's gastronomic delights as an expression of its distinct terrain and bountiful waters. Produce is sourced from the expansive pasture land of Kula, with fresh fish expedited directly from the coastline. An embrace of this farm-to-table approach has sparked Maui's culinary renaissance attracting a new generation of restaurateurs. The island's exceptional ingredients have accounted for an explosion in fine dining diversity, from Hawaiian to Japanese and Mediterranean fare.

RESTAURANTS

THE PLANTATION HOUSE | HAWAIIAN

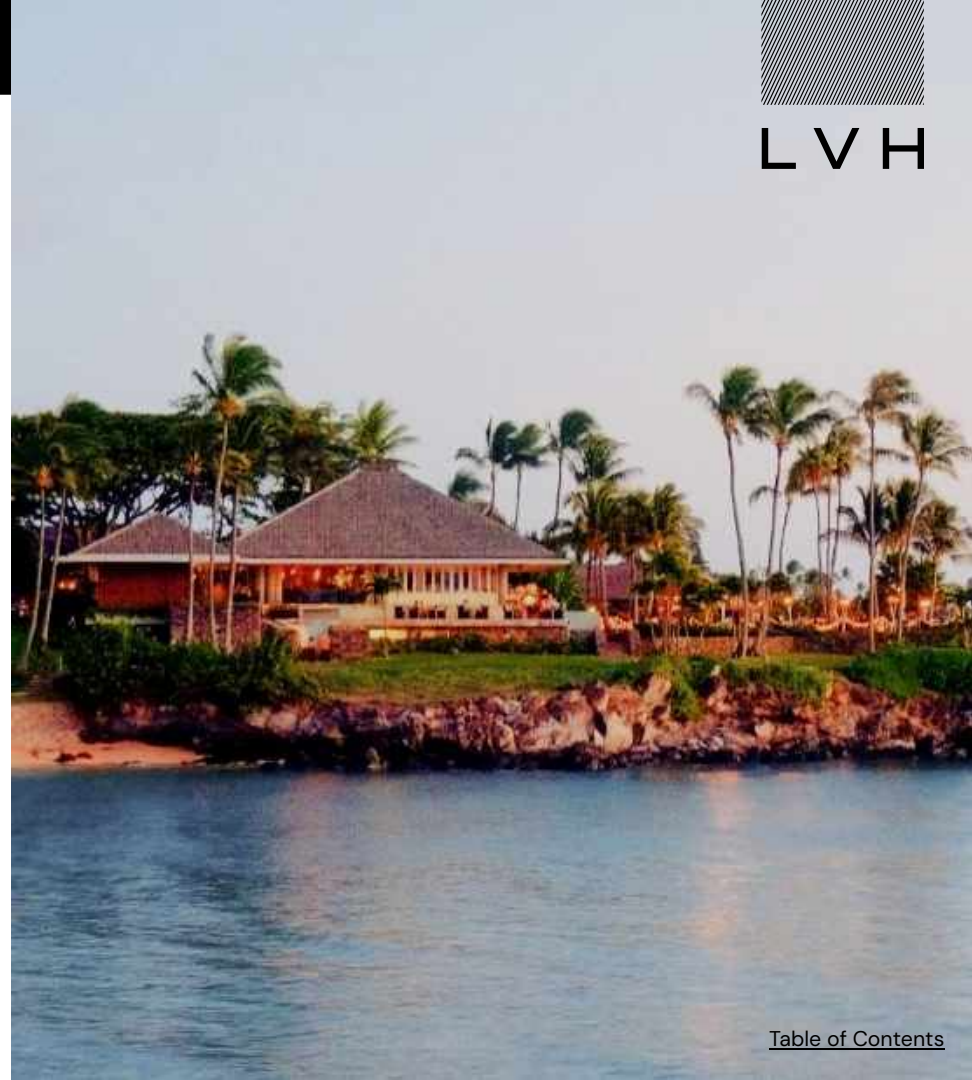

This is definitely the place to head to when celebrating a special occasion. The Plantation House is in a stunning clubhouse overlooking Kapalua's lush Plantation Golf Course. The sweeping views of the ocean are worth the trip alone. For dinner, expect choices like Angus beef, Australian lamb, just caught mahi mahi, and fresh local raw fish.

Table of Contents

MERRIMAN'S | AMERICAN

Chef/Owner Peter Merriman has brought his Hawaiian regional cuisine to the unsurpassed ocean-side ambiance of Kapalua Resort. Only the freshest ingredients are used while incorporating the farm-to-table concept of locally grown, and produced or caught using sustainable methods. For a truly romantic experience be sure to catch the sunset from "Champagne Point."

RESTAURANTS

LAHAINA GRILL | AMERICAN

Lahaina Grill features cuisine using techniques and flavors from around the world with the freshest ingredients from Maui's local farms, dairies and surrounding waters. Among the signature favorites are the Cake Walk, a sampler of Kona lobster crab cake, seared ahi cake, and sweet Louisiana rock shrimp cake. For an entrée try the Kona coffee roasted rack of lamb, Maui onion crusted seared ahi or the nightly fresh seafood. To finish the meal, delight in a slice of the famous triple berry pie.

LVH

PACIFIC'O | HAWAIIAN

Pacific'o offers a lunch, dinner or bar menu with seafood straight from the harbor. Chef James McDonald combines exotic flavors with organic fruits and vegetables. He invites you to dine with live evening jazz or just relax with a cold Mai Tai while watching the surf.

The Mill House is a restaurant and bar providing innovative, farm-driven dining in central Maui on The Maui Tropical Plantation. Enjoy handcrafted cocktails, local beers, a stunning environment and absolutely amazing views in addition the decadent dishes from which you may choose.

MAMA'S FISH HOUSE | HAWAIIAN

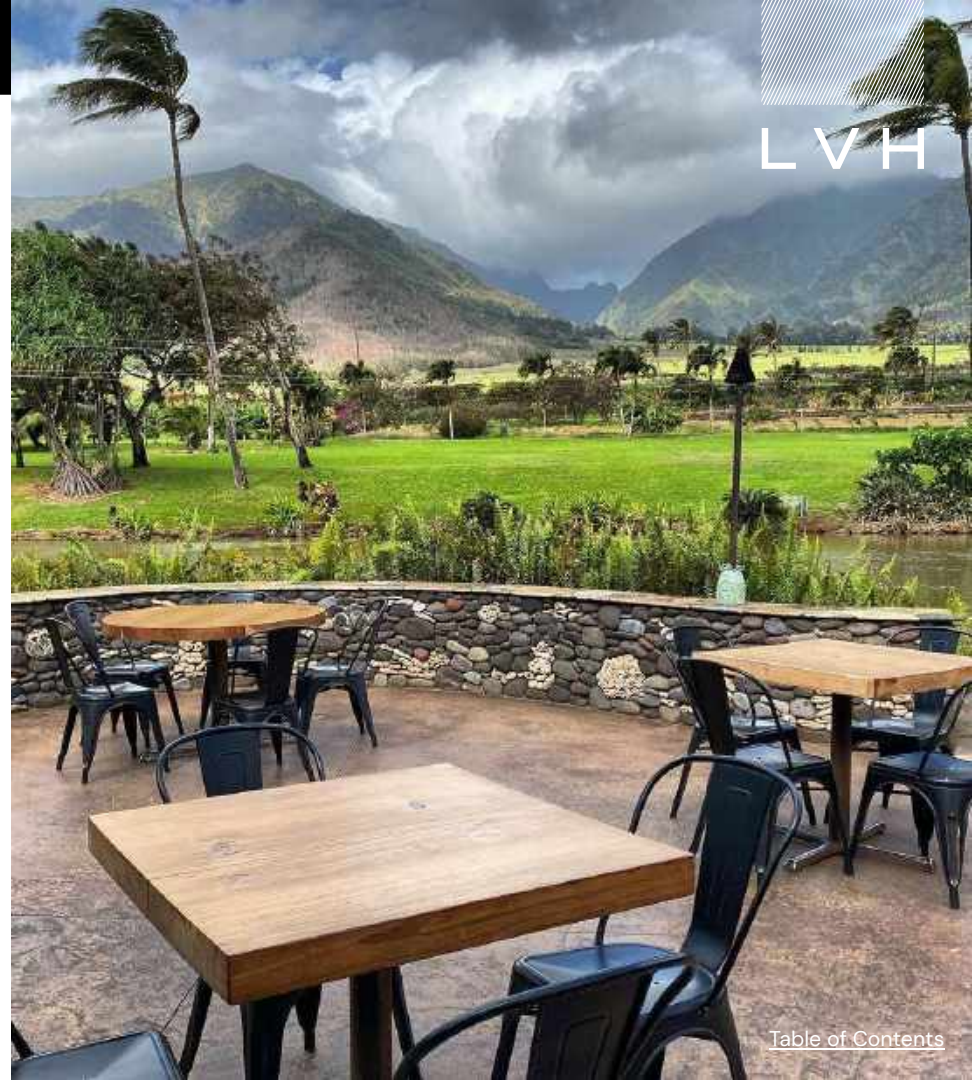

If you're looking for fine dining, island-style, this iconic restaurant is classy and refined, decked out in glossy hardwood finishes, and wrapped in expansive ocean views. Servers in Hawaiian-print muumuus and aloha shirts flit about gracefully, balancing colorful cocktails and exquisite-looking and tasting seafood. Mama's has the best and freshest seafood menu on the island, so fresh that the menu changes daily and even tells you which fisherman caught your dinner, and where it was caught.

RESTAURANTS

CAFE O'LEI KIHEI | HAWAIIAN

Michael and Dana Pastula own and operate Cafe O'Lei Kihei. Dana opened the first Cafe O'Lei in Makawao, Maui in 1997. It all started as a five-table outdoor cafe serving sandwiches, salads, coffee, and tea. The couple now have six restaurants with Asian Fusion influences that are local favorites. The menu features an eclectic mix of seafood, sushi and American cuisine.

1. Alaloa Lounge
2. Old Lahaina Luau

ALALOA LOUNGE

Alaloa at the Ritz-Carlton, Kapalua, is one of Maui's premier lounges. Readers of Maui No Ka Oi Magazine named the venue the best lobby lounge on the island. This inviting place offers light dining, signature desserts and an extensive bar menu with specialty cocktails, domestic and imported beers along with premium spirits. With breathtaking views of the Pacific Ocean, Alaloa Lounge is the place to view Maui sunsets, enjoy a cocktail and some nibbles, or from December to April, do some whale watching. A spacious lanai offers outdoor seating, or you may choose to sit inside to enjoy live entertainment with your dinner.

LVH

OLD LAHAINA LUAU

When guests step through the gates at the Old Lāhainā Lū'au, they're swept into a well-preserved epicenter of Hawaiian culture, cultural storytelling, and feasting with a breathtaking ocean view. This is the best Hawaiian Lū'au the islands have to offer. Get serenaded by local musicians playing island melodies on the ukulele. Take a seat, order a drink, and settle in for an evening of entertainment, Hawaiian culture, bright clothing, and lots of food.

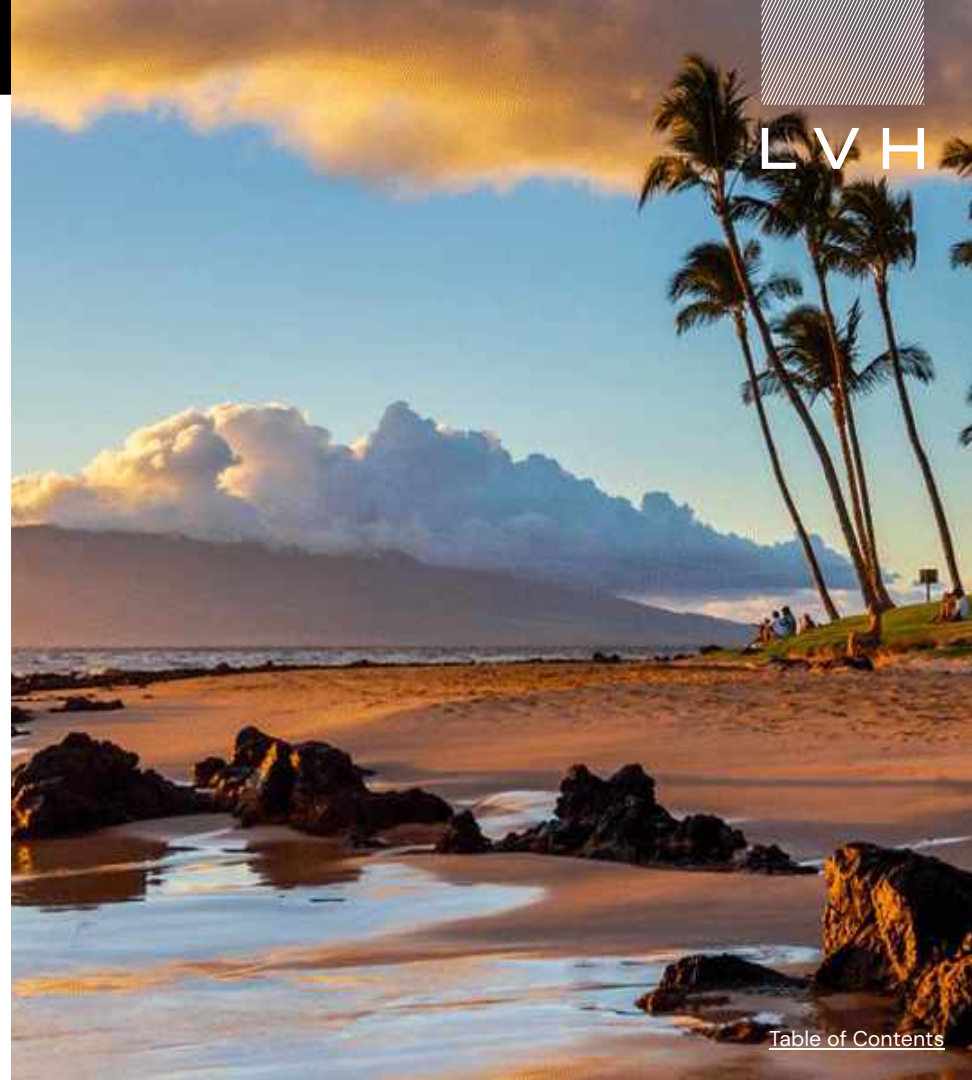

LVH

Table of Contents

NAPILI BAY BEACH

Napili Bay is known as one of the best beaches on Maui. Great for both swimmers and snorkelers, its sandy bottom slowly slopes down where snorkelers can explore the coral reef just a swim away! During high surf there is an impressive undertow as the waves slap onto the steep shoreline and recedes quickly. Lots of fun for the whole family, it can get really crowded, so arrive early!

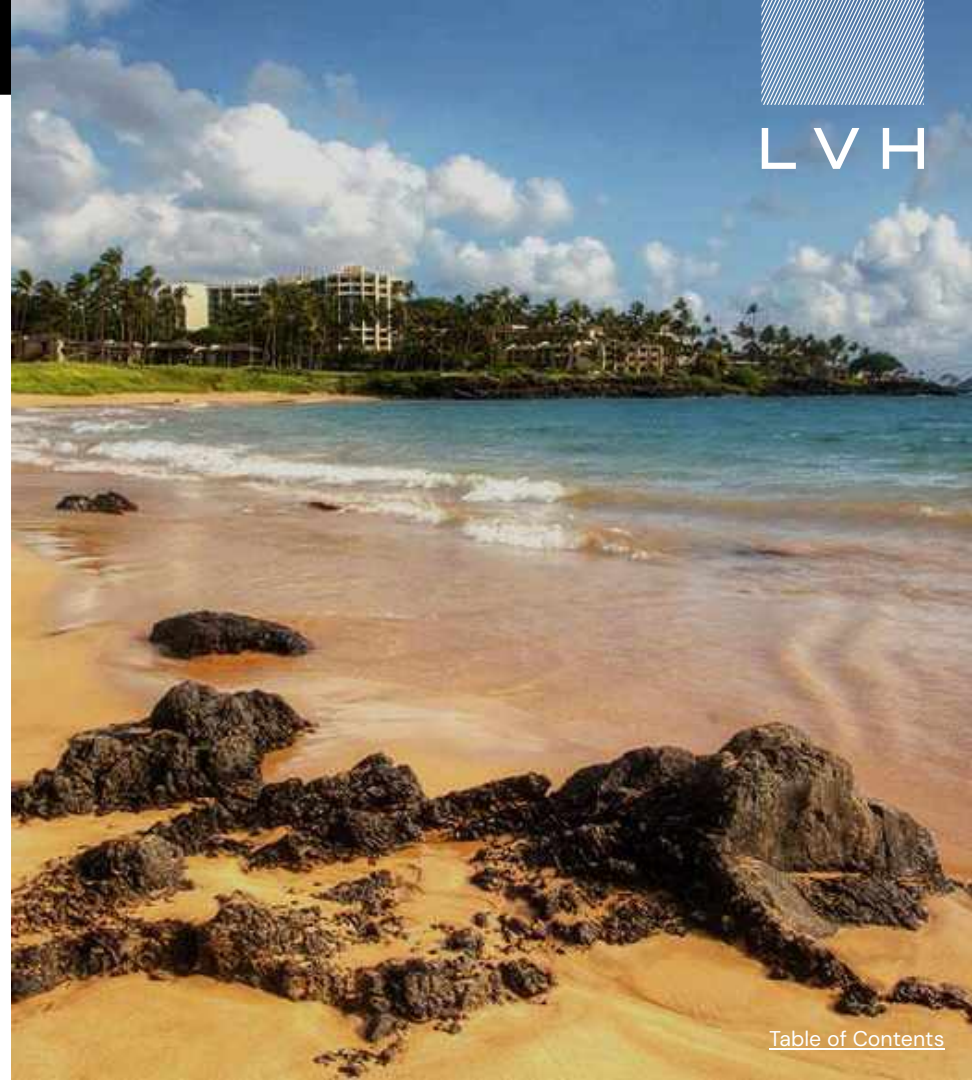

H.A BALDWIN

H.A. Baldwin is a picturesque community beach park with plenty of space for ball games and swimming. In fact, it is one of the most popular beach parks on the windward side of Maui. The beach and the picnic areas are always crowded and the main attraction is the surf that breaks along the entire length of the park's long, sandy beach. The shore break is usually small, but sufficient for bodyboarding..

ULUA BEACH

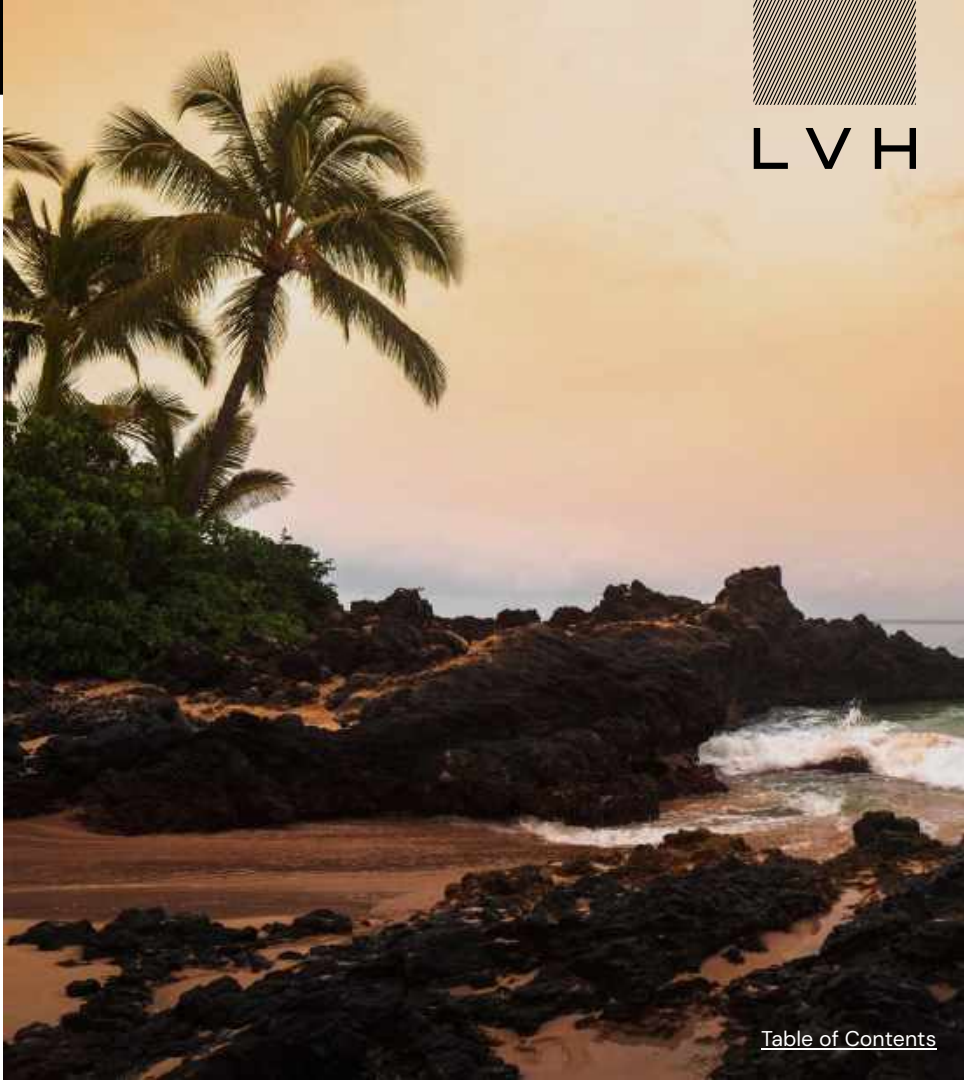

Ulua beach was named on of the Top 10 Most Beautiful Beaches in America. It's a spectacular swimming beach due to its sandy bottom and wonderful weather conditions. Snorkeling is also possible pending conditions at the southern end.

BIG BEACH

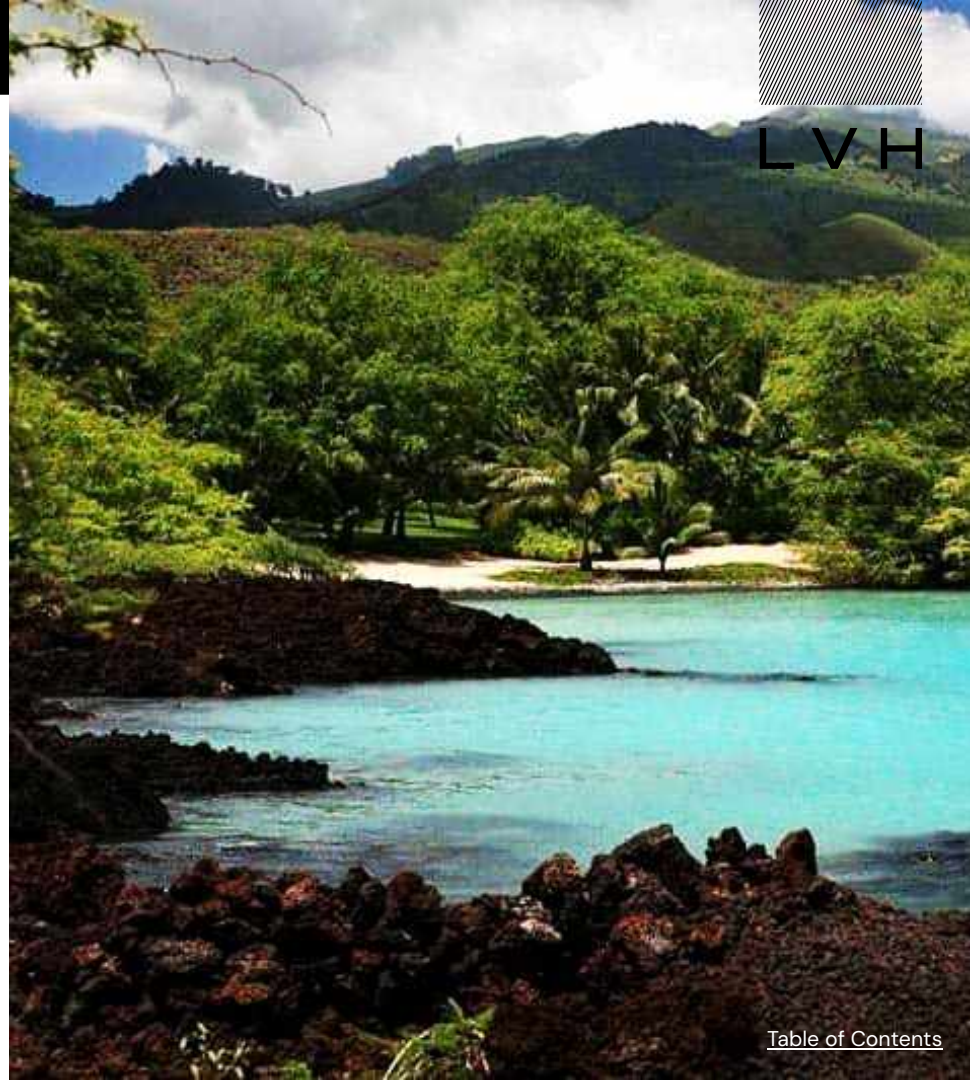

Backed by the lush, 165-acre Makena State Park and sheltered by low black lava cliffs, Big beach is one of the prettiest in all of Maui. It's also one of the largest. True to its name, Big beach is more than a mile long and is 100 feet wide from sand to shoreline. It's completely undeveloped, but that's precisely why you're there: there's nothing around to distract you from enjoying its silvery sand and cool turquoise waters.

LA PEROUSE BAY

If you're a dolphin lover this is the place to be! A pod of dolphins is said to claim this spot for their regular morning routine. La Perouse Bay is recommended for a morning adventure. Strong winds and currents are common due to its location.

NATURE

Table of Contents

It would be a tragedy to consider Maui a mere beach destination. Maui is host to awe-inspiring wonders that need to be experienced to be believed. The austere and outworldly volcanic mountainscape of Haleakala Park leaves no one indifferent. The famous stone needle rock formation of the Iao Valley has profound sacred importance as a burial place for Native Hawaiian royalty. Maui's natural beauty has provided the contours and inspiration for a fascinating and enduring civilization. A land of distilled natural beauty and geography, you'll quickly discover why Maui is known as the "magic isle."

1. Iao Valley State Park
2. Pua'a Ka'a State Wayside Park
3. Wai'anapanapa State Park
4. Haleakala National Park
5. Waimoku Falls
6. Molokini Crater

HALEAKALA NATIONAL PARK

Haleakala National Park is on the Hawaiian island of Maui. It's home to the dormant Haleakala Volcano and endangered Hawaiian geese. The Leleiwi and Kalahaku overlooks on the steep Crater Road have views across the west Maui Mountains.

PUA'A KA'A STATE WAYSIDE PARK

Pua'a Ka'a State Wayside Park is along the Hana Highway about 39 miles east of Kahului. The area consists of five acres of rainforest with waterfalls and pools. It is like a true Garden of Eden

WAI'ANAPANAPA STATE PARK

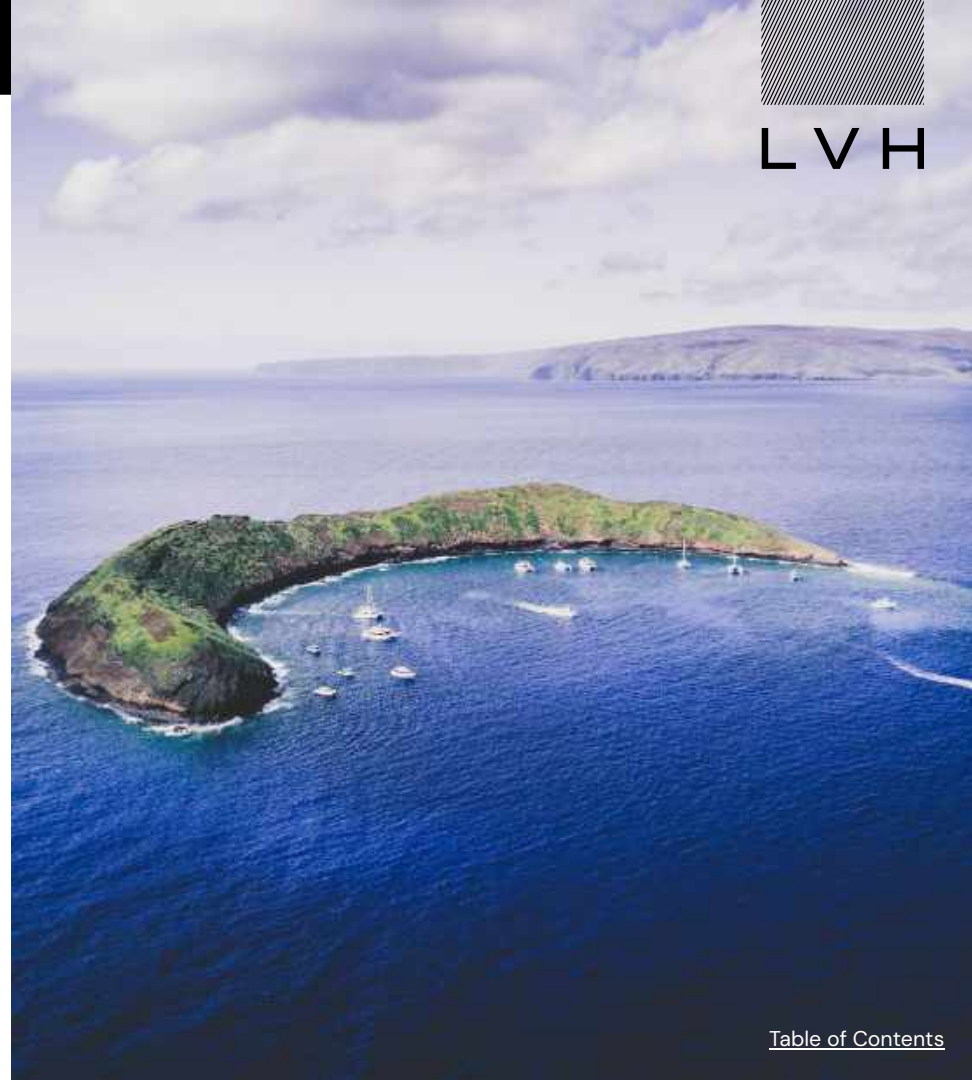

Wai'anapanapa State Park sits on 122 acre states on a remote, wild, volcanic coastline offering solitude and respite from urban life. Lodging, camping, picnicking, shore fishing and hardy family hiking along an ancient Hawaiian coastal trail are available for your enjoyment. The park provides an excellent opportunity to view a seabird colony and natural stone arch. Other features include a native hala forest, heiau (religious temple), sea stacks, blow holes and a small black sand beach.

MOLOKINI CRATER

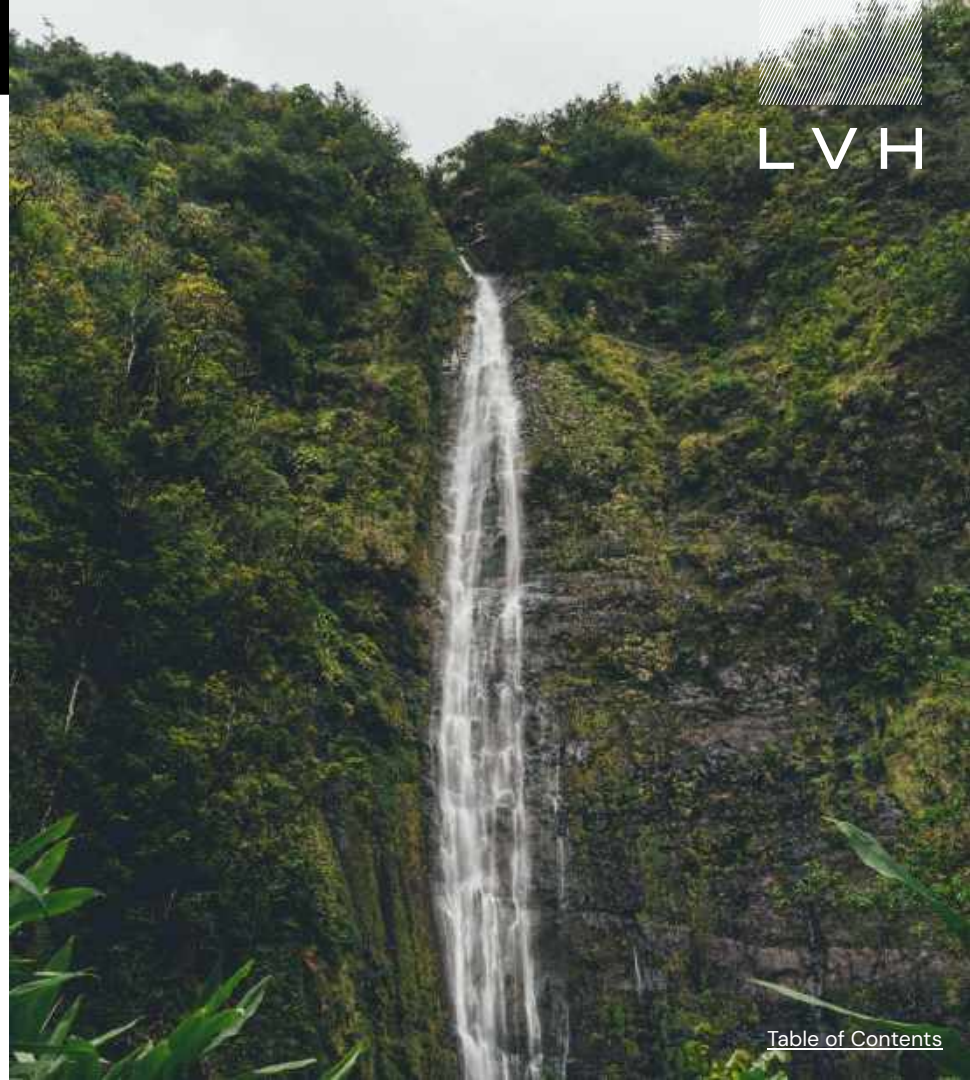

View colorful marine life such as moray eels, manta rays, octopuses, and white-tip reef sharks roaming the reef at the crescent-shaped, partially submerged volcanic Molokini Crater created from an eruption hundreds of thousands of years ago. Snorkel to see creatures closer to the surface, or scuba dive to reach larger fish. The crater also serves as a bird sanctuary, so bring your binoculars if you like birding.

WAIMOKU FALLS

Waimoku Falls is at the end of the Pipiwai Trail, above Seven Sacred Pools on the Road to Hana. The hike to Waimoku Falls passes the 185-foot Makahiku Falls (which is stunning) at about half a mile into the trail. This gigantic waterfall drops 400-feet down a sheer lava rock wall into a boulder-strewn pool and is the tallest falls on Maui.

IAO VALLEY STATE PARK

More than just a place to explore and take in the fauna and flora, Valley Isle is also where King Kamehameha I defeated the Maui army in 1790 during the Battle of Kepaniwai. The Iao Valley is a peaceful, serene destination where you can learn about Hawaii's history and explore a variety of attractions and facilities.

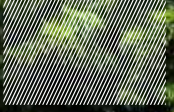

LVH

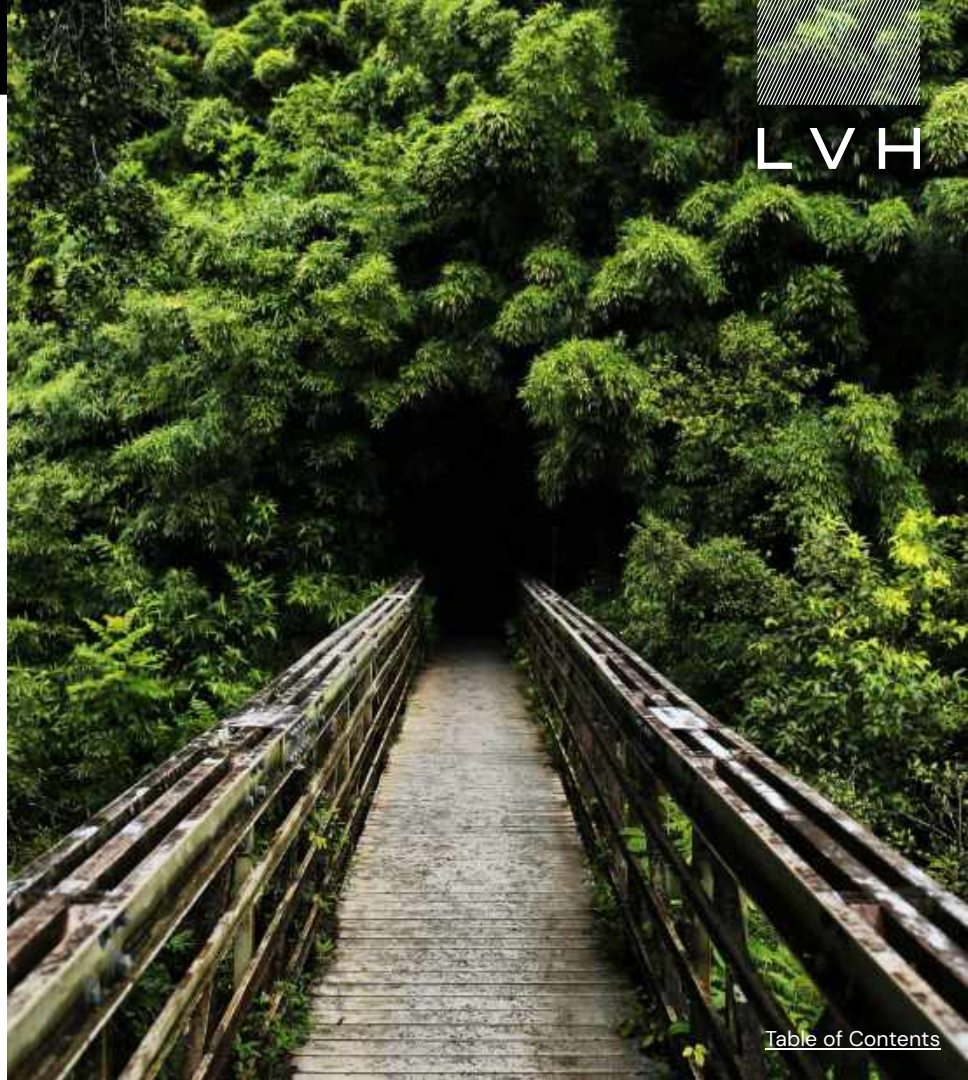

LAND

Table of Contents

The Valley Isle's natural splendor gives any land activity an epic dimension, whether it's a day on horseback through the rolling pastures of the upcountry or soaring above the jungles by zipline. Sink your feet into the soft sands, or straddle the ridge of the Waihee Valley, high among the clouds. Weave through the dense foliage of the rainforest, witness a stunning array of tropical birds. Whether you're hiking, biking, or strolling, Maui's surroundings render the ordinary extraordinary.

HALEAKALA SUNRISE TOUR

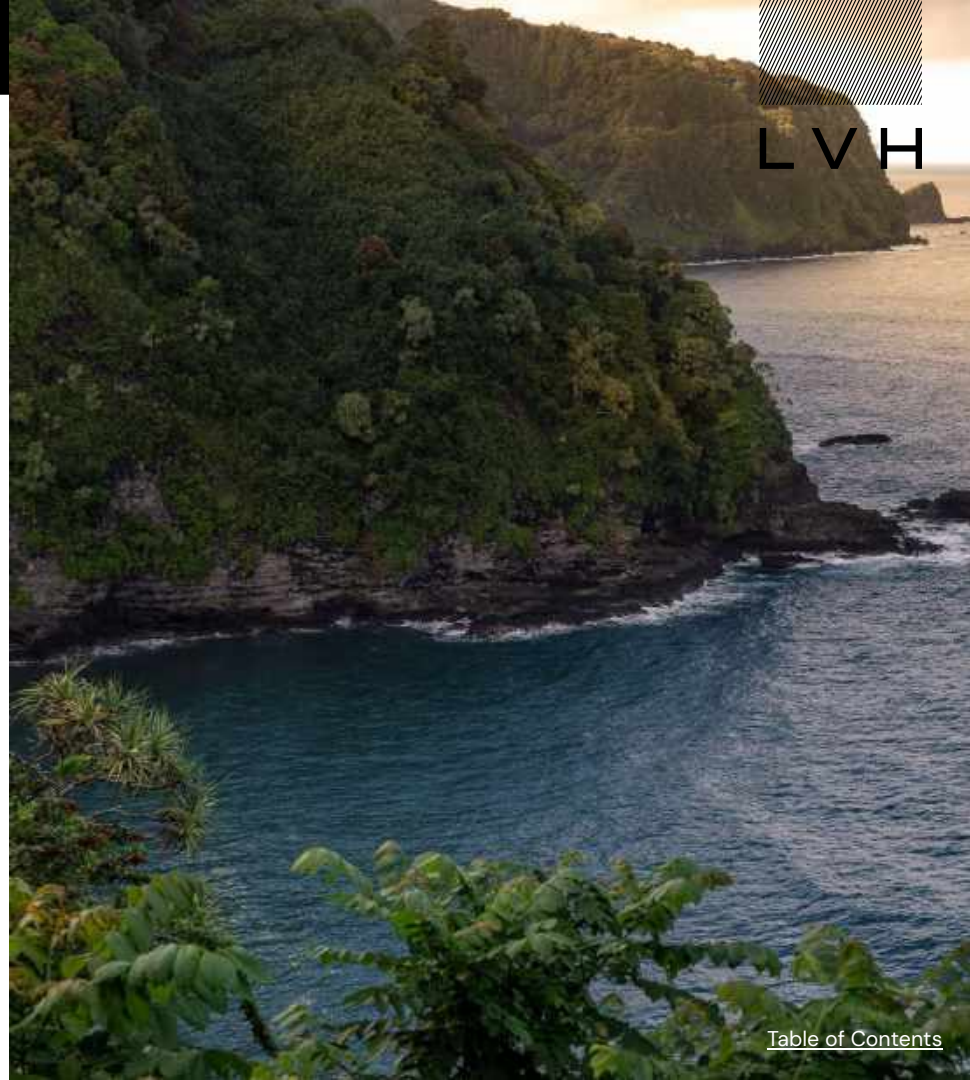

World famous sunrises, unparalleled vistas, and otherworldly volcanic landscapes will create memories to last a lifetime during a Haleakala Sunrise Tour. Haleakala National Park is one of Maui's undisputed must-sees, and one of the most popular places on the island.

ROAD TO HANA COASTLINE EXPERIENCE

Experience the majestic east coastline drive on Maui Island with a personal and in depth tour by ambassadors of aloha. The saying on Maui is "Maui No Ka O'i" (Maui is the best) and you'll see why this is so as you motor down the road to Hana. Get ready for a road trip of a lifetime!

UPCOUNTRY MAUI FOOD TOUR

The Taste of Upcountry tour features three of the island's premier food and beverage makers – MauiWine, Hali'imaile Distilling and Surfing Goat Dairy. In addition, you'll visit Kula Country Farms which has been providing Maui with beautiful and tasty produce for four generations!

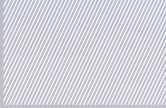

ZIPLINE

Wherever you are on the island, there's a zipline near you. An exhilarating experience that allows for some impromptu surprises along the way. It's a perfect mix of beauty and excitement. Pack your camera!

LUAU

Maui is home to about a dozen different luaus – traditional Hawaiian celebrations each with distinct quirks and personalities. Some are oriented for families and children, others for couples, or for the sake of centuries' old rituals. Among the most striking luaus offered on the island is The Feast at Lele.

STARGAZING

Join Maui Stargazing for a stunning sunset at Haleakala Summit followed by an informative 60-minute guided telescope tour of the cosmos. Observe the most remote deep-sky objects through the largest portable telescope on Haleakala. See visible planets and very farthest bodies of the Milky Way, including nebulae, star clusters, and galaxies beyond through a 12-inch aperture Dobsonian telescope.

VISIT LAVENDER FIELDS

Visit a very picturesque and peaceful place on Maui – the stunning lavender fields. Feel your stress levels plummet by breathing in the delectable aroma of endless fields of purple.

LVH

GOLF

Maui's west and south shores are home to some of the world's most majestic golf courses. These greens are nestled where lands, sea, and mountains meet, embraced by palm groves and refreshed by ocean mist. With courses for novice or professionals, the Island has no shortage of intoxicating ocean views to offer its putters.

LVH

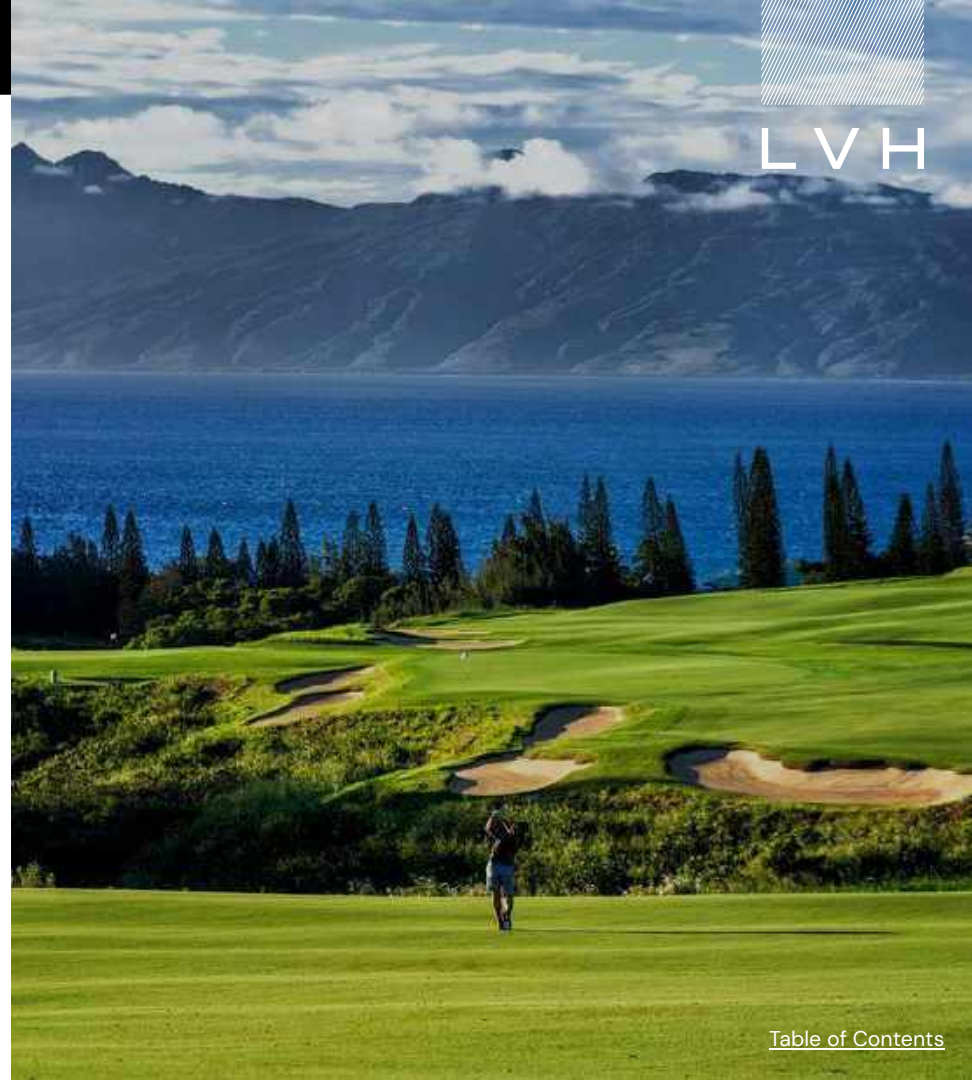

1. The Plantation Course At Kapalua Bay
2. The Bay Course At Kapalua
3. Ka'anapali Kai Course

THE PLANTATION COURSE AT KAPALUA BAY

Designed by Ben Crenshaw and Bill Coore, this amazing 7,411-yard course has been consistently ranked as the #1 golf course in all Hawaii. Located on the slopes of the West Maui Mountains near Kapalua Bay, this course offers the most dramatic ocean views and stunning scenery at every hole. Most famously, the Plantation Course is home to the PGA Tour's Hyundai Tournament of Champions each January.

THE BAY COURSE AT KAPALUA

Beautifully landscaped and offering stunning ocean views with the Island of Molokai in the distance, this 18-hole course sits on more than 6,600 yards while playing at a par-72. Designed in 1975 by Arnold Palmer and Francis Duane, the Bay Course is Kapalua's original course and has hosted more than 20 major professional tournaments over the years, withstanding the test of time while hosting some of the best golfers in the world.

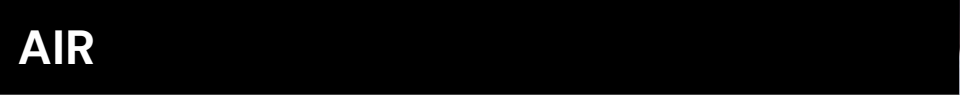

KA'ANAPALI KAI COURSE

If you're looking for a spot that's easy-going, fun and scenic, then look no further than this highly accessible course. The 18 holes were originally designed by Arthur Jack Snyder back in 1967 to be more than 6,388 yards. Since then, the course has undergone major renovations and was re-designed by Robin Nelson in 2005.

SURFING

Admittedly not having as many natural surf breaks as it's sister island O'ahu, there are many beginner-friendly spots to hang 10. Puamana Beach in Lāhainā, is a great place for casual long-boarding or for novices to get their bearings. Lessons are offered, no matter what your age or skill level.

BODYBOARDING

For those put off by the intensity of surfing, bodyboarding presents an excellent family-friendly alternative. By far more popular than its aforementioned sister sport, bodyboarding is nearly ubiquitous on the island, with Kamaole III and Fleming Beach Park being Maui's most popular destinations for the activity.

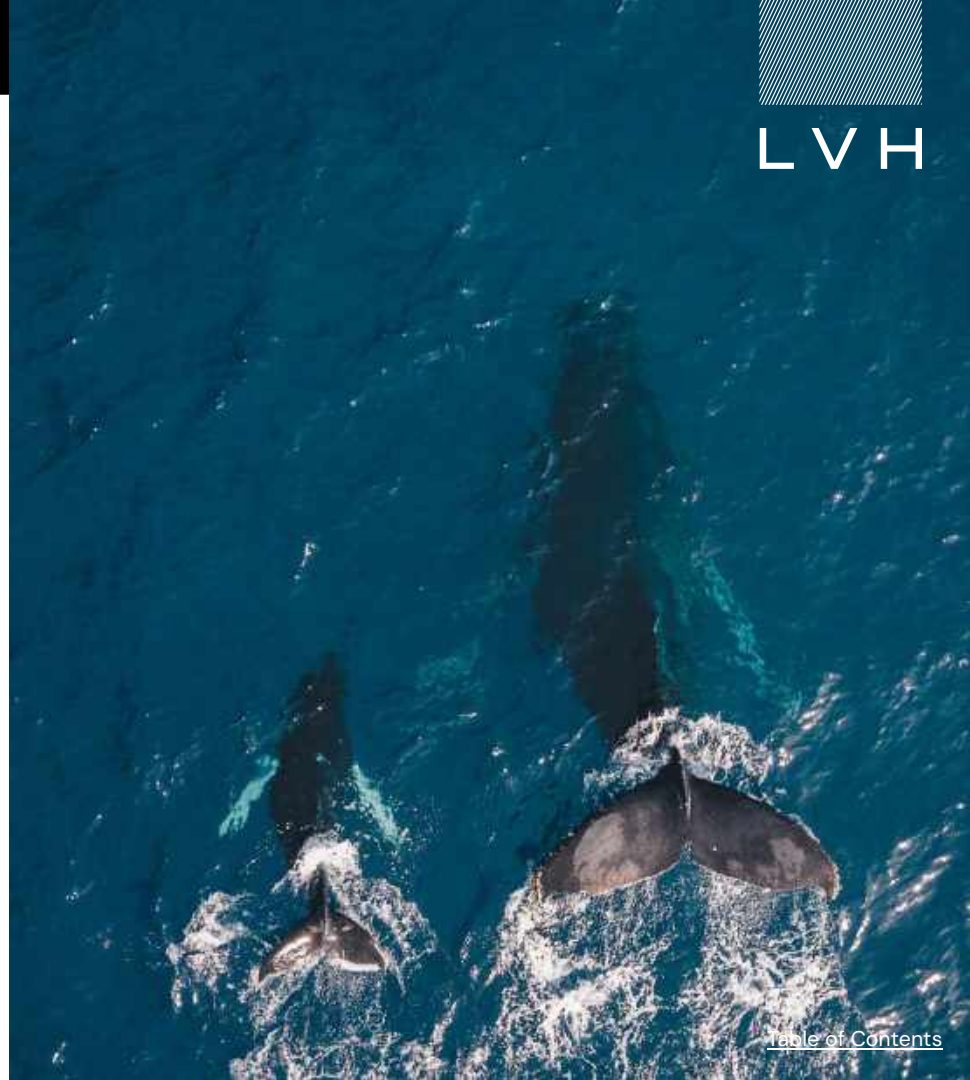

SCUBA DIVING

Calm, clear and warm waters make Maui a premier destination for scuba diving. Many companies offer tours ranging from beginner to experienced, with Molokini, Honolua Bay, and Kahekili Beach Park being regular expedition sites. For the more adventurous diver, Molokai's Hammertime Channel offers the opportunity to swim alongside Hammerhead sharks!

WHALE WATCHING

Between the months of November and April more than 10,000 Humpbacks migrate to Maui from Alaska to give birth in balmy waters. During this magical period you might see their activities from shore! Fret not if you find yourself visiting off season, whale watching tours abound all year, providing spectacular views of Molokai, Lanai, and Haleakaka in addition to getting up close and personal with these majestic creatures.

KAYAKING & PADDLING

When in Maui, there is no need for motorized ways of getting around. Kayaking, stand up paddle-boarding (SUP) and the historical outrigger canoe provide endless opportunities to do as the locals do while absorbing sublime coastal views. With many on-island rental services at your disposal, take in the serenity of a calm bay by SUP or navigate the turquoise waters by canoe.

FISHING CHARTERS

If fishing is your game, you may very well be in your own paradise. Just grab a pole, a piece of shore and strike up a conversation with a local. If the captivated expanse of open water is what you're after, there are fishing charters available from Maui for both bottom fishing and sport fishing.

CARS

Few places encapsulate the adage "it's the journey, not the destination" as much as Maui. The Island's Hana Highway presents one of the most scenic stretches of tarmac. Drivers weave around cliffs, interspersed with lush valleys teeming with waterfalls. Fall in love with driving again. Maui's roads are the ultimate venue to take that dream car for a drive. Choose from a fine selection of exotic, utility, and luxury vehicles.

JEEP GLADIATOR

We present to you the fully-loaded Jeep Gladiator Rubicon 4x4, four-door, convertible pickup truck. One of the hottest off-road vehicles out there, the Jeep Gladiator, is a truck Jeep lovers have been waiting for, for decades. For those who can't compromise with anything but the best, the Rubicon is lifted with over-engineered 4WD technology. It's a great option for off-roading.

JEEP WRANGLER

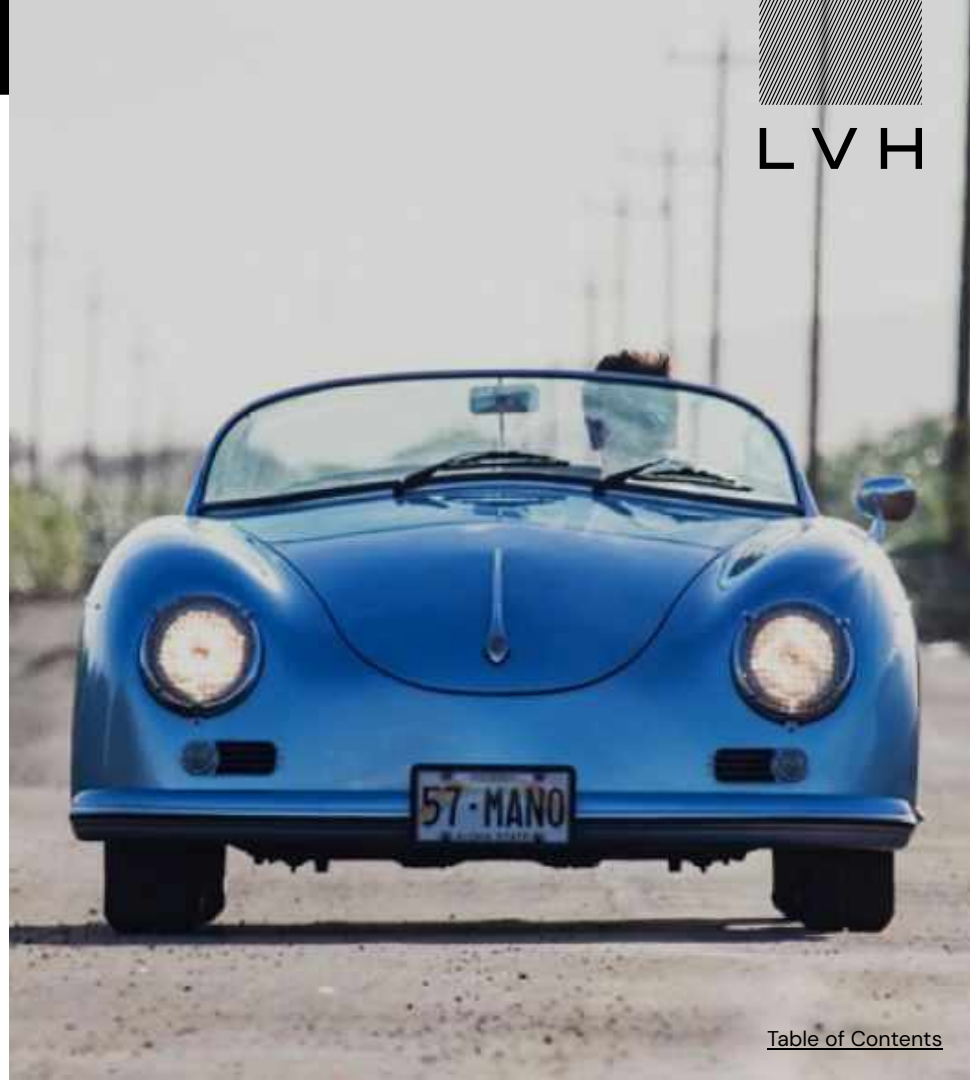

The all-new JL, redesigned Jeep Wrangler was designed solely for aficionados the Rubicon. This fully loaded and lifted Jeep has been critically acclaimed and voted best 4x4 vehicle of the decade! The hardtop T-Top Convertible is a little quieter, offering premium roof racks and more security compared to its soft-top counterparts. It comes with 4WD, power windows, mirrors and locks keyless entry and alarm and the doors are easily removed.

PORSCHE 356 SPEEDSTER

Sleek and sporty with a racy red interior, Mano's color changes with the light. Sometimes blue, sometimes silver, but always stunning. Mano feels just as comfortable driving the road to Hana or the slopes of Haleakala as cruising to a local surf spot.
