

An aerial photograph of Paris, France, featuring the Eiffel Tower prominently in the center-right. The tower is encircled by the five Olympic rings, which are rendered in a 3D, metallic style. The city's dense urban landscape, with its characteristic red-tiled roofs and green spaces, is visible in the foreground and background. The sky is a vibrant blue with scattered white clouds. On the far left edge, there is a vertical column of five empty rectangular boxes, and a large white letter 'L' is partially visible, suggesting a list or a design element.

2024 SUMMER OLYMPICS & PARALYMPICS

THE SUMMER OLYMPICS | 2024

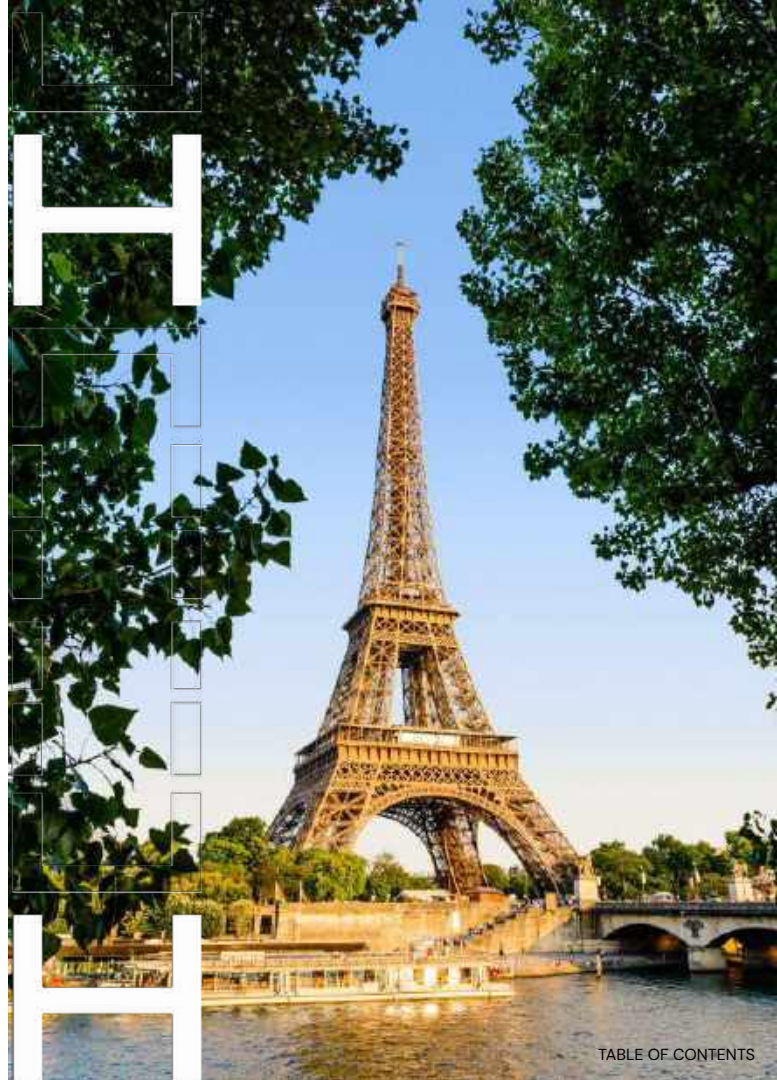

Breaking away from the traditional confines of a stadium, the opening ceremony will take place on the Seine River. This daring choice aligns perfectly with Paris 2024's vision of innovation and accessibility. The picturesque banks of the Seine will transform into a grand stage, with a procession running for 3.7 miles between Pont d'Austerlitz and Pont d'Iéna. The finale promises to be a visual feast, culminating in front of the iconic Trocadéro.

This unique setting will not only provide an impressive backdrop but also allow for an extraordinary number of spectators. An estimated 600,000 people are expected to witness the celebrations along the route, a figure that dwarfs the capacity of any Olympic stadium.

The two closing ceremonies at the Stade de France will mark the end of this historic event in France, promising to be just as breathtaking and memorable as the opening.

THE ARTISTRY BEHIND THE EVENT

The Paris Summer Olympics 2024 is shaping up to be more than just a sporting event; it's an ambitious artistic endeavor that aims to redefine the way we experience the Olympics. Under the guidance of Thomas Jolly, known for the exceptional, norm-defying shows with elevated performances and the vision of Tony Estanguet, President of Paris 2024, the world can expect a celebration that honors tradition while boldly forging a new path forward. Jolly's background in theatre and opera will undoubtedly influence the ceremonies' design, making them deeply engaging and emotionally resonant.

THE SUMMER OLYMPICS | A HISTORY OF THE OLYMPIC GAMES

The Olympic Games are a grand display of sportsmanship and unity, with a storied past stretching back three millennia. It all began in 776 BC in Olympia, Greece, with a religious festival dedicated to Zeus, the king of the gods. The event, known as an "Olympiad," was held every four years and included a single event – the stade, a 192-meter race. As time went on, more events were added, and the duration was extended to 17 days. Unlike modern Olympics, the ancient Games were highly religious, featured fewer events, and only free men who spoke Greek were allowed to compete. Unfortunately, they faded into obscurity in 393 AD, until Baron Pierre de Coubertin proposed the revival of the Olympics in 1894.

FAST FORWARD TO THE MODERN GAMES

Born again in 1894 after the Baron had championed their revival, the Games welcomed 280 athletes from 12 nations to Athens for the first modern-day Olympics. Since then, the Olympic Games have evolved into a stunning showcase of sportsmanship and unity, where people of all nationalities come together to compete in close to 70 sports. The International Olympic Committee (IOC) works tirelessly to ensure sustainability, efficiency, and equality, while maintaining the Olympic spirit of peace, understanding, and fairness.

PARIS AND FRANCE AS HOSTS

Paris will achieve a remarkable distinction by hosting the Summer Olympics for the third time, a feat matched only by London. The city previously held the games in 1900 and 1924, and this achievement gains even more significance as it marks France's sixth time as a host nation for the Olympics. The Olympics continues to be a symbol of global solidarity and good-natured competition, preserving its ancient roots whilst striving for a better future.

THE SUMMER OLYMPICS | THE OLYMPIC TORCH

L V H

The Torch is a symbol of the Games that illuminates its spirit throughout the host city and beyond. As each edition of the Games progresses, it becomes evident that sports is a wonderful way to bring people together in spite of competition. The Torch and its Flame impart a message of peace and solidarity, connecting us all.

Manufactured by ArcelorMittal, the world's leading steel company and an Official Partner of Paris 2024, these Torches unite and inspire, radiating the spirit of the Games throughout France. With 2,000 Torches produced, five times fewer than previous editions of the Games, ArcelorMittal is creating a more sustainable future.

In ancient tradition, the Olympic Flame would be ignited by the sun's rays in Olympia, Greece and then journey across the Mediterranean Sea to France. On 8 May 2024 in Marseille, the Flame of the 2024 Paris Olympics will kick off a four-month-long festivity, ending at the Opening Ceremony of the Olympic Games in Paris on July 26, 2024.

After two weeks of triumphs and festivities, the Olympic Flame will be extinguished, yet the Torch and what it symbolizes will remain and be carried on through the Olympiad.

LVH

THE OLYMPIC VENUES & EXCLUSIVE ACCESS

THE OLYMPIC VENUES

ICONIC AND HISTORICAL VENUES

Featuring a total of 32 sports and 329 events in 35 different locations or settings, the Games will see a variety of open-air arenas, iconic stadiums like Roland Garros and Stade de France, as well as newly-built facilities such as the Centre Aquatique Olympique – a modern swimming pool connected to the Stade de France by a passenger bridge!

Innovative and creative, Paris 2024 is also taking the sports out of the stadiums and into the heart of the city. While the existing sports venues will be revitalized with the influence of the Games, the iconic landmarks will be transformed into thrilling sporting arenas. From the newly-renovated Grand Palais for fencing, Les Invalides for archery and para-archery to volleyball at Champ de Mars at the Eiffel Tower. The 35 venues that will be featured throughout the Paris Games are united by a single concept – to use the power of sport to create a lasting legacy and bring us together.

PUSHING THE BOUNDARIES

The Paris Olympics will encompass a wide array of events beyond the boundaries of the City of Light. Sailboats will race across the waters of Marseille, while the waves of Tahiti in Polynesia (15,700 km from Paris) will serve as a thrilling venue for the surfing competitions.

Handball will take place in Lille, equestrian events in the Chateau de Versailles and six cities around the country will each host a soccer game – Marseille, Nice, Lyon, Saint-Etienne, Bordeaux and Nantes. Truly, these Olympic Games will be a world-spanning spectacle!

EIFFEL TOWER STADIUM |
BEACH VOLLEYBALL

At the magnificent Eiffel Tower, a temporary open-air stadium with 12,860 seats is erected. Nestled in the picturesque Champs de Mars, Parisians would come together to enjoy Bastille Day fireworks and witness World Cup soccer matches displayed on huge screens. This time, however, it's beach volleyball that takes the center stage, creating memories that will last a lifetime.

CHÂTEAU DE VERSAILLES
| EQUESTRIAN

The prestigious Chateau de Versailles creates a majestic atmosphere for the games, with dressage and showjumping performed on an arena constructed among the picturesque geometric lawns. Cross-country riding and the modern pentathlon will also be held amidst the grandeur of the Versailles grounds.

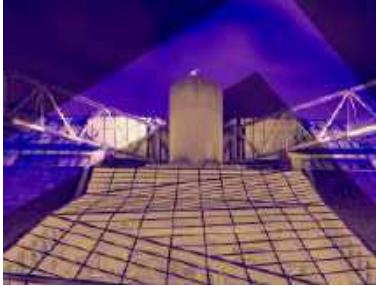

GRAND PALAIS | FENCING
AND TAEKWONDO

Situated in the heart of Paris, the Grand Palais is an architectural masterpiece with an impressive heritage. Constructed for the Paris Universal Exhibition of 1900, its masterful nave and grand glass roof were made with the most innovative building techniques of the era. Now, after a thorough restoration, the Grand Palais is set to reopen in 2024 to host the Olympic and Paralympic Games in its breathtaking Nave.

STADE DE FRANCE |
RUGBY & ATHLETICS

The Stade de France, built in 1998 for the FIFA World Cup where France emerged victorious, is the country's largest stadium and will be the site of the concluding match of the 2023 Rugby World Cup. Additionally, the Olympics will kick off here, with the men's and women's Rugby Sevens tournaments. Numerous other notable sporting events have been hosted at the Stade de France since its construction.

BERCY ARENA | BASKETBALL AND GYMNASTICS

The iconic 12th Arrondissement's grassy pyramid, otherwise known as the Accor Arena, is a grand multi-sports venue – hosting basketball, judo, concerts, and more. Bercy stands tall as one of the city's most vibrant entertainment centers – now ready to dazzle spectators with basketball, gymnastics, and wheelchair basketball during the upcoming Olympic and Paralympic Games.

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM | TENNIS AND BOXING

In the leafy Bois de Boulogne, on the western outskirts of Paris, lies the famous Roland Garros Stadium, host of the French Open since 1925. Greats such as Rafael Nadal and Venus Williams have graced these red clay courts, and the Olympic Tennis and Wheelchair Tennis competitions, as well as the Boxing Finals, will also be held here.

LA DÉFENSE ARENA | SWIMMING AND WATER POLO

As it gears up for the Paris 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games, the Arena is set to bring unparalleled excitement to the city of Nanterre. Designed by the architect, Christian de Portzamparc, its iconic exterior is composed of 600 dynamic giant aluminium and glass scales. Its crowning glory is the world's largest interactive giant screen: a 1,400-square-meter display made of seven tennis courts.

PARC DES PRINCES | SOCCER

Parc des Princes, the historic home of Paris Saint-Germain – one of Europe's premier soccer teams – stands proud as one of France's largest stadiums. In 2024, the legendary arena will welcome the world's top men's and women's soccer teams to compete in the finals of the much-anticipated tournament.

CHAMP DE MARS ARENA | WRESTLING & JUDO

At the 2024 Paris Games, the iconic Champ de Mars Arena will be more than just an 'overlay' of the Grand Palais. In 2024, the Arena will remain in place for a few extra months, serving as a venue for the Paris 2024 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Designed by architect Jean-Michel Wilmotte, the Arena stands gracefully in the Champ de Mars with its timber structure, weaving harmonious curves that mirror the grandeur of the Grand Palais.

PONT ALEXANDRE III | CYCLING, TRIATHLON

Connecting the Grand Palais and Invalides, Pont Alexandre III is the epitome of the Paris 2024 mission to bring the Games to life in the centre of the world's most enchanting city, surrounded by its iconic landmarks – like Concorde, Arena Champ-de-Mars, Pont d'Iéna and the Eiffel Tower stadium. It is here, beneath the bridge's stunning facade, that the finish line will be marked for the individual cycling time trials, swimming marathon, triathlon and para triathlon.

INVALIDES | ARCHERY

The beautiful Esplanade des Invalides in Paris' 7th arrondissement is a vast green space, sitting opposite the impressive Hôtel des Invalides. Constructed by Louis XIV in 1687 to serve as a military hospital and retirement home, the Hôtel is now home to museums, monuments and the tomb of Napoleon Bonaparte. In 2024, this will be the perfect stage for the archery and para archery events during the Olympic Games.

OLYMPIC AQUATIC CENTER | DIVING

The Olympic Aquatic Center, a marvel of modern architectural design and engineering, serves as the distinguished venue for aquatic sports during the prestigious Olympic Games. This grand facility hosts a myriad of water-based competitions, providing an arena for athletes from around the globe to showcase their extraordinary skills and compete for the coveted Olympic medals.

THE OLYMPIC VENUES | CLOSING CEREMONY

On the grand stage of the Stade de France, the Closing Ceremony of the Paris 2024 Olympic Games will come to a close in a magnificent display of unity and sportsmanship. As is tradition, the Olympic fire will be extinguished to the sounds of the Olympic anthem. The iconic Place de la Concorde, steeped in the symbolism of the French Revolution and the unity between the Olympic and Paralympic Games, is a potential venue for the grand finale. This stunning conclusion will showcase Paris' dedication to sustainability and inclusivity.

When it comes to landing in Paris, there are several options available. However:

Paris Le Bourget Airport () stands out as the most important airport in Europe exclusively dedicated to private aviation. Located 14 km northeast of the city centre, it offers several terminals and VIP lounges. It's also the busiest private jet airport in Europe, situated next to the scheduled airline hub of Charles de Gaulle airport.

Lognes Airport, () which is the closest general aviation airport to Paris, only a 25-minute drive from the center is another good option.

FINE DINING

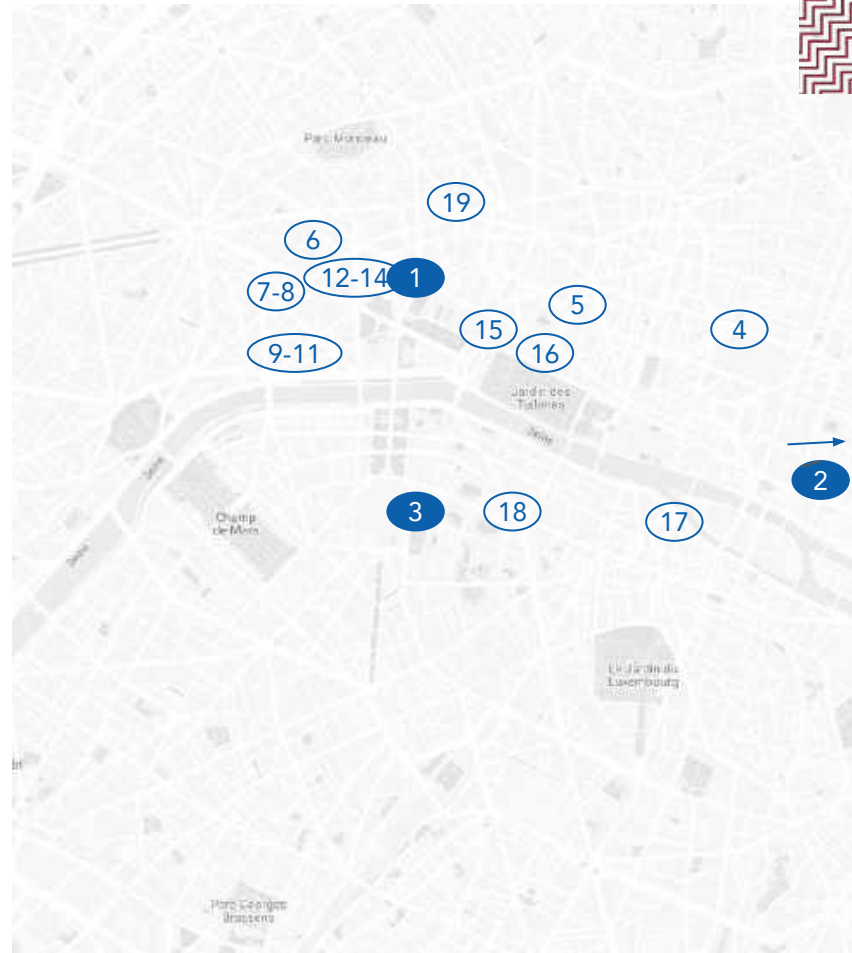

FINE DINING

In this country of unyielding culinary traditions, the French capital is home to a multitude of delightful dining experiences for all palates. Paris is awash with 134 Michelin-starred restaurants representing the finest in haute cuisine, but it also offers a wealth of chic nonchalant establishments. Bringing together a range of esteemed chefs, architects, and artistic directors, the Paris Society Group and Moma Group have played an integral role in reviving the city's centuries-old gastronomic legacy, from classic bistros and brasseries to the iconic dishes of chef Auguste Escoffier.

FINE DINING

ÉPICURE MICHELIN | CREATIVE

Epicure is a culinary institution in French cuisine. The restaurant is situated in the prestigious Le Bristol Paris and is set amidst a French garden. Indulge in a truly epicurean experience curated by Chef Éric Frechon, who has four Michelin stars to his name, including one star for French brasserie 114 Faubourg. The chef's finesse in French classics is showcased in his signature dishes like artichoke, duck foie gras, and macaroni stuffed with black truffle. Each exquisite course is paired with a glass of wine selected by their in-house sommelier. This fine dining affair delivers an unprecedented experience.

FINE DINING

L'AMBROISIE  MICHELIN | FRENCH CREATIVE

If you're in search of a quintessentially French dining experience in the heart of Paris, look no further than l'Ambroisie. This exquisite restaurant can be found in an elegant townhouse on the Place des Vosges, its interior filled with antique mirrors, a captivating tapestry and a black and white marble flooring that exudes its regal Florentine ambience. On the culinary side, master chef Bernard Pacaud never fails to mesmerize with his creative dishes that brim with his passion. He makes it all appear effortless, yet each element is placed with remarkable artistry, like a masterpiece painting.

FINE DINING

L'ARPÈGE  MICHELIN | MODERN

For a transformative dining experience, L'Arpège is the place to go for imaginative dishes inspired by nature. Long before the rise of vegetarian and vegan cuisine, Alain Passard pioneered vegetable-focused fine dining and has been leading the charge at the three-Michelin-star Arpège since the early 2000s. His revolutionary approach to gastronomy revolutionized the restaurant industry with an emphasis on plant-based delicacies. Passard's menus are guided by the four seasons and the five senses, and he relies on open-flame cooking for both his meat and vegetable dishes, bringing out a variety of exciting flavors, textures, and colors. The restaurant also holds the prestigious Michelin Green Star for its commitment to sustainable practices.

LES GALERIES LAFAYETTE | DEPARTMENT STORE

Surely on every shopper's list when visiting Paris, the flagship store of Les Galeries Lafayette is a must-see. The impressive exterior of this classic Parisian department store enchants as much as eight levels of designer clothing, cosmetics, and houseware, tempting you at every turn under a jaw-dropping stained-glass dome. The Galeries Lafayette is also home to more than 15 dining options, with menus ranging from homemade hamburgers to caviar. With everything you'll ever need in a single department store, it's a great place to go on rainy days.

SHOPPING

PLACE VENDÔME & RUE SAINT HONORÉ | FASHION

From Louboutin to Chanel and Louis Vuitton to Van Cleef & Arpels, famous luxury brand names dominate Place Vendôme and along the Rue Saint Honoré. This oh-so-chic part of Paris lies north of the Tuileries Gardens and extends west to the Palais de l'Elysées, the home of the French President. The area attracts many tourists, window shoppers, and luxury lovers alike.

SHOPPING

L'ÉCLAIREUR | FASHION

First launched in the early 1980s as a men's-only concept store L'Eclaireur now has several locations around the city that also now carry women's clothing, luxury home items, bags accessories, and objets d'art. The brainchild of fashionista couple Martine and Armand Hadida, L'Eclaireur is as much known for its prestigious setting as it is for its high fashion. One of the boutiques is housed in the former stables of a private manor in a hidden spot near the square, the Place des Victoires right in the heart of BCBG (bon chic bon genre) Paris. L'Eclaireur carries a wide range of prêt à porter (ready-to-wear) and haute couture (high-end) designer lines, including Alexander McQueen, Emilio Pucci, Oscar de la Renta, Maison Margiela, and other well-known names. It is also a hotspot for up-and-coming international designers.

CAFES & TEA ROOMS

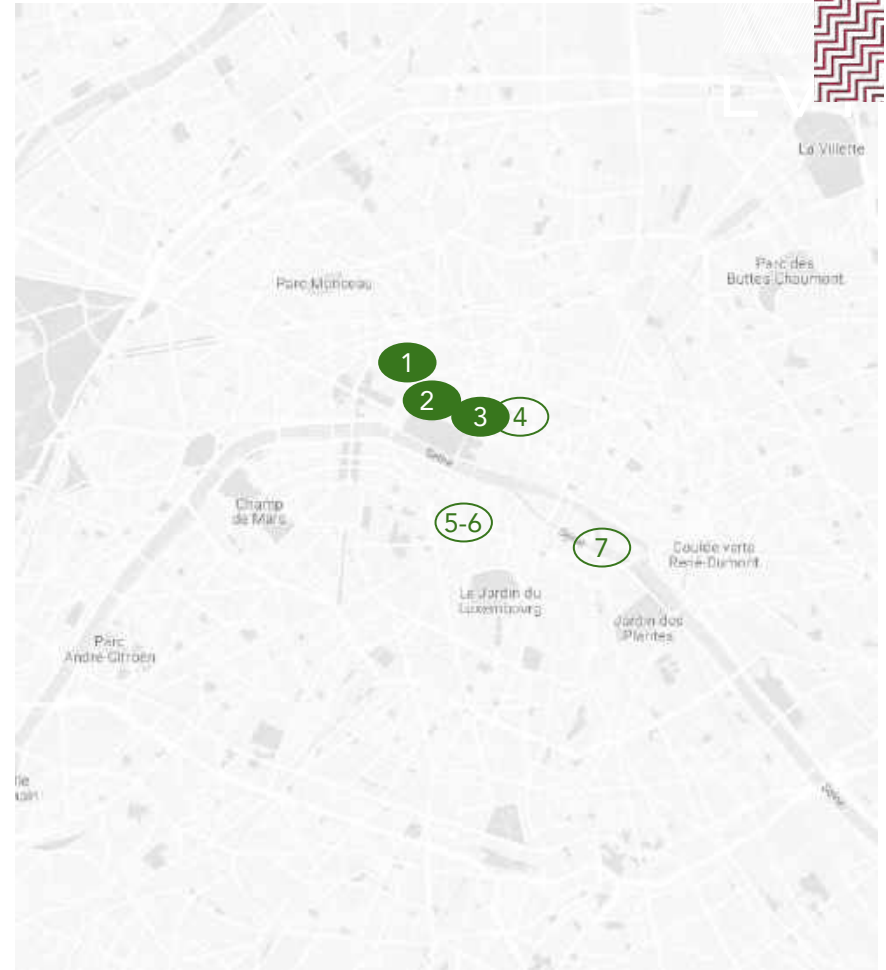

CAFÉS & TEA ROOMS

A croissant and coffee are what most people think of at a tea room or café, but when you visit a café in Paris, they is so much more. And what better way to discover the streets of Paris than by letting your taste buds be your guide? The selection of 'salons de thé' on the list includes specialty pastry shops, tea rooms and cafés. These elegant addresses are worth visiting rain or shine for breakfast or for what the French call goûter an official 'snack' time in the middle of the afternoon.

CAFÉS & TEA ROOMS

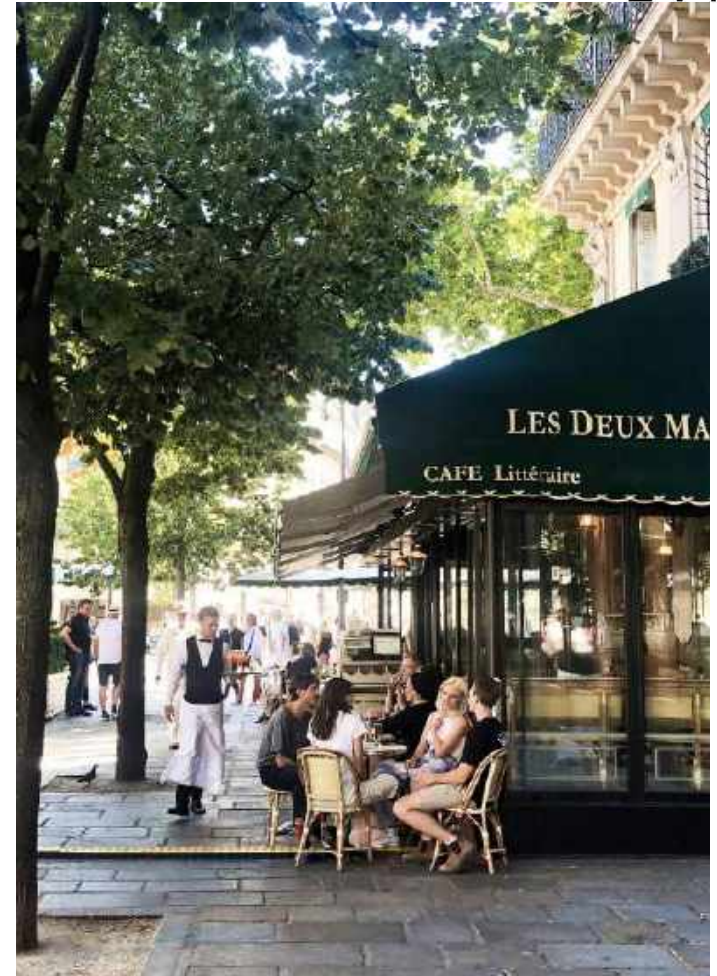

FRENCH TEATIME AU RITZ PARIS | TEA ROOM

There are two kinds of afternoon teas at the Ritz: with or without champagne. There's the English-style served with finger sandwiches and cakes in the Bar Vendome and the French teatime (goûter à la française) that takes place in the Salon Proust. It is an evocative, wood-lined world unto itself. Cocoon yourself in the intimate, serene atmosphere of this observatory on the rich mix of life that pulses throughout the Ritz Paris. Enjoy the magic and skillfulness of pastry chef François Perret under the watchful eye of Marcel Proust. French biscuits like Madeleines and cakes from Proust's era are given center stage here.

CAFÉS & TEA ROOMS

LES DEUX MAGOTS | CAFÉ

Like its neighbor and rival, Café de Flore, this legendary spot represents the height of Parisian café culture. Its large corner terrace is perfect for people-watching, giving you a view of both the bustling Boulevard Saint Germain and the Église Saint-Germain-des-Prés, one of the oldest churches in Paris. With its iconic green and white awning, Les Deux Magots is renowned for being the café where great literary minds like Jean-Paul Sartre, Simone de Beauvoir, and Albert Camus once gathered. It was also a favorite among American expatriates like Julia Child and James Baldwin. The restaurant maintains its literary legacy with the Deux Magots literary prize awarded to a new French work annually since 1933.

CAFÉS & TEA ROOMS

LADURÉE | TEA ROOM

Ladurée, a world-renowned French luxury patisserie, was founded in 1862. Ladurée offers an exquisite and original experience with its iconic macarons. The specialty store is an institution; it is for gourmands, whether you're craving a Religieuse, a La Fleur D'Oranger, or a St. Honoré Framboise. It's worth a visit for the presentation, taste, and atmosphere.

CAFÉS & TEA ROOMS

HONORABLE MENTIONS

NINA'S | TEA HOUSE

A stop at Nina's for a cup of tea is a regal experience. Boasting some of Marie-Antoinette's favorite recipes, Nina's carefully selects its ingredients from the famous King's Garden of Versailles. Located behind the opulent Place Vendôme, this 17th century tearoom is a reminder of royal decadence, with its golden cabinetry and rose-cushioned chairs.

ANGELINA | TEA ROOM

The tea room exudes grandeur – exquisite walls, intricate ceilings, and lavish marble tables topped with dainty china. But this elegant Rue de Rivoli address, which has stood since 1903, is most famous for something far sweeter: its delightful hot chocolate. The divinely indulgent chocolat chaud, known as 'l'Africain', is served with a crown of cream – so delicious that even Coco Chanel was its regular devotee at table N° 45.

BERTHILLON | ICE CREAM SHOP

Berthillon ice cream on the Île Saint-Louis has become an essential summer tradition in Paris for almost 70 years. This picturesque wooden interior shop offers irresistible sorbets, ice creams, and pastries. And many times, the ice cream has been ranked as the best in Paris. Whatever your choice, you will not be disappointed. If you're having trouble deciding, go for the wild strawberry sorbet, which was the ingredient that made Berthillon famous.

CAFÉ DE FLORE | CAFÉ

Café de Flore is one of the two legendary cafes in Saint-Germain in Paris. As one of the oldest cafes in Paris, it was the preferred refuge for writers, philosophers, and artists such as Georges Bataille and Pablo Picasso. The interior of this eternally elegant cafe has not changed much since World War II, and sitting down to have a bite can feel like a journey back in time.

ARTS & CULTURE

THE LOUVRE MUSEUM

From Leonardo da Vinci to the Venus de Milo to Greek and Egyptian sculpture, the Louvre Museum in Paris has the most extensive art collection in the world. The Louvre covers more than 4,000 years of art history going back to ancient civilizations and the birth of art as we know it. You'll see the French masters and masterpieces of the Italian Renaissance. You'll even get to view the royal crowns of French emperors and kings. Definitely book Louvre-guided private tours with priority access and go directly to the most famous works of art. Once the three-hour tour concludes, you can continue exploring the Louvre Museum independently and at your own pace.

ARTS & CULTURE

CENTRE POMPIDOU

Centre Pompidou – Europe's largest museum of modern art – opened its doors in 1977 and now boasts a collection of over 60,000 works from the surrealists, cubists, pop artists and other masters of the 20th and 21st centuries. Here you can explore the works of David Hockney, Picasso, Klee, Philippe Starck, Andy Warhol and many more. Although nestled in the middle of the medieval Marais quarter, the museum stands out like an alien amidst the hustle and bustle of Place Georges Pompidou outside. Here you will find street performers, mimes, jugglers, budding artists and musicians – and the iconic Stravinsky fountain – a whimsical water-spraying sculpture inspired by the great composer. Centre Pompidou is truly the place to be for discovering the greats of modern art and design.

ARTS & CULTURE

THE ORSAY MUSEUM (MUSÉE D'ORSAY)

The Orsay Museum truly is an Impressionist gem. Built as a train station in the 19th century's Belle Époque, Musée d'Orsay was transformed into a museum to house France's collection of 19th century paintings when the Louvre literally ran out of space. Here you can see the best works of Manet, Monet, Cézanne, Degas, Renoir, Sisley, and a stunning collection of van Goghs. There are about 2,000 paintings and 600 sculptures and other artworks on show, but it's not just quantity that counts. The museum is special because it houses the largest collection of Impressionist and post-Impressionist masterpieces worldwide.

CABARET

MOULIN ROUGE

The famous Moulin Rouge, an iconic emblem of Paris' Belle Epoque, has been revered worldwide since its opening in 1889. Through its depiction in Toulouse-Lautrec's works, this legendary cabaret has come to stand for a time of risqué and provocative can-can dancing. Nowadays, the red windmill of Pigalle proudly hosts two captivating shows each night – although the traditional can-can may have been replaced by a modern version, the Moulin Rouge still radiates the same old charm. Delightful dinners and champagne-flowing festivities make for an unforgettable evening of enjoyment!

CABARET

CRAZY HORSE

For over sixty-five years, Crazy Horse has been captivating audiences with their stunning stage shows. Twists and turns of the classically trained dancers, skillfully illuminated by the perfect lighting, make for a mesmerizing experience. It's no surprise then that the likes of Dita Von Teese, The Rolling Stones, and Beyoncé have all been enchanted by Crazy Horse; in fact, Beyoncé even featured it in her 'Partition' music video! A hotspot for celebrities and a timeless source of inspiration, Crazy Horse has been delighting and entertaining since 1951.

CABARET

THE FOLIES BERGÈRE

The mythical Folies Bergère has achieved legendary status as one of the world's most renowned cabarets. Ever since the late 1880s, when the first revues were performed on its stage, the music hall has welcomed performers such as Charlie Chaplin, Josephine Baker, Charles Trénet, and Colette, inspiring many artists, writers, and film directors along the way. For Parisians, the Folies Bergère evokes the nostalgia of the Belle Époque, along with images of the dancers sketched by Toulouse-Lautrec. It has also embraced more recent stars, such as Dita Von Teese, whose burlesque tour "The Art of the Teese" is considered the most successful of all time, as well as her subsequent variety show, "Glamonatrix."
